

ELEVENTH ANNUAL ASSEMBLY OPENS

Members of Two Large Lutheran Bodies here for Week's Sessions.

PROMINENT MEN SPEAK

Lectures by Clergymen of Note. Mission Workers to Have Classes. Reception for Visitors.

The eleventh annual Lutheran Summer Assembly—expected to be the most largely attended in the history of the organization—opened this afternoon at the Seminary with a preliminary conference of instructors and members. The regular program will be begun this evening.

At the afternoon meeting the lecturers and instructors spoke briefly, outlining their course and giving a general idea of the work to be done during the coming week.

This evening at 6:15 there will be a twilight service on the Peace Porch and it will be followed by the first of a series of lectures to be given by Dr. Albert T. W. Steinhäuser, of Allentown, on the general subject "Messages of Luther, the Writer, for Readers of To-Day." His topic tonight will be "The Liberty of a Christian Man." Dr. Steinhäuser's lecture will be given at 7:30 each evening and will precede the illustrated lectures which will start at 8:15. This evening, however, the second period will be taken up with a reception to the members of the Assembly. It will be held at the refectory.

Many of the people arrived in town yesterday and to-day, and dormitories at both college and seminary are filling rapidly. It is believed that the estimated enrollment of 500 will be accomplished early in the course.

The actual class room work of the Assembly will start on Saturday morning. The program for the day follows:

8:15, Bible Study, Dr. C. P. Wiles, of Philadelphia. Subject, "Paul, the Master Christian and Letter Writer." 9:05, Lecture, Dr. A. R. Wentz, Gettysburg. Subject, "The Birthday of the Lutheran Church."

10:00, Study of Missionary Methods, conducted by Mrs. E. C. Cronk, of Columbia, South Carolina.

10:40, Lecture, Mrs. Maude Junkin Baldwin, of Chicago. Subject, "The Aim of Religious Education in the Sunday School."

11:20, Mission Study, "An African Trail," conducted by Mrs. C. P. Wiles, of Philadelphia.

The afternoon will be given over to rest and recreation. In the evening at 6:15 the twilight service, at 7:30 the second of Dr. Steinhäuser's lectures, and at 8:15 an illustrated lecture by Dr. C. L. Fry, of Philadelphia, on "Reformation Incidents and Places."

BIGLERVILLE

Biglerville—Miss Helen Beales, of Gettysburg, is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Deatrick.

Mrs. Franklin Swope, of Harrisburg, recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bucher.

Mr. and Mrs. William Spangler, of Centre Mills, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fohl.

Mrs. Oscar Diehl spent Thursday with friends in Gettysburg.

Mrs. John Roth, who recently underwent an operation in the Harrisburg Hospital, returned home on Thursday.

Miss Avery, of Kutztown, who has been the recent guest of Miss Clara Myers, returned to her home on Wednesday.

S. G. Bigham and family spent Thursday at Pen Mar.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the United Brethren church enjoyed a picnic along the O'Possum Creek on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kapp and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Knouse are on a motor trip to Atlantic City.

U. S. Klinefelter and party returned on Tuesday from an automobile trip through Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Claire Taylor, of near town, announce the birth of a son on Wednesday.

SEE Orrtanna Canning Company advertisement on another page.—advertisement 1

FOR SALE: 1917 Ford touring car. S. G. Bigham, Biglerville.—advertisement 1

LOST: bunch keys. Reward at Times office.—advertisement 1

TWO RETURN

Gettysburgians Receive Honorable Discharges from Camp.

Morris Miller and Albert Menchey have returned home from the Reserve Officers' Training Camp at Fort Niagara, both having been honorably discharged with several hundred others. Younger members of the camp were let go this week by the scores because of their age, and many of them regard the treatment as decidedly unfair, claiming that if their youth was to have barred them from commissions they should have been advised of it many weeks ago, instead of being kept in camp to undergo the strenuous work and arduous study of the long period.

It is stated that nearly all the Gettysburg College boys have been dropped because of their youth, and the local contingent in the camp has been reduced to a very few men.

ANOTHER DEATH FROM GREAT HEAT

Thurmont Man Dies on his Way to Hospital. Employed at Sparrow's Point.

HOWARD BOLLINGER

Howard Bollinger, aged 30 years, son of Mrs. Lewis Bollinger, of Thurmont, died Tuesday evening as a result of the excessive heat. He was stricken while at work for the Raymond Concrete Pipe Company, at Sparrows Point. On the way to the Maryland General Hospital, Baltimore, he died. The remains were taken to the morgue and the coroner notified. Wednesday the body was identified.

Mr. Bollinger had not been in good health since an attack of typhoid fever a year or so ago. He was a carpenter by trade, and had been away from Thurmont a year or more.

He leaves his mother, three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Myrtle Valentine, of Nebraska; Misses Leona and Nellie, at home; John, at Fort Howard, and Jacob Bollinger, Johnstown.

Funeral at Thurmont.

MRS. WILLIAM WHITE

Mrs. Margaret E. White, widow of the late Dr. William White, of Thurmont, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. E. G. Morrison, in that place Tuesday, aged 79 years, 10 months and 15 days. She was a daughter of the late Rev. Daniel P. Saylor, of Detour, and was twice married, her first husband being Milton Cover, of Carroll county.

She leaves three sons and two daughters: William Cover, of Key-Mar; Daniel Cover, of York; John Cover, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Sarah Billmyer, of St. Louis, Mo.; and Mrs. Morrison.

The funeral was held in Thurmont Thursday morning.

GET NEW MEMBERS

Enrollment of Hunterstown Branch Increased by Twenty One.

The following members have been added to the Red Cross at Hunters-town: J. Chester Bell, Miss Mary Howard, George Raffensperger, Miss Frances Bell, Miss Mary Bell, George Wolford, Miss Sue Black, Miss Mary Black, John Black, Miss Kathleen Goldsborough, Miss Lenora Goldsborough, John Groscoft, Mrs. John Groscoft, George Wampler, Mrs. George Wampler, G. R. Thompson, Mrs. G. R. Thompson, Robert Thompson, Earl Thompson, Clarence I. Snyder, Mrs. Clarence I. Snyder.

BAND ABSENT

Goes to Mountain Resort for the Day. Expected President.

The Fourth Regiment Band and a squad of soldiers went by train to Monterey this morning to take part in the Allied pageant. A number of government officials were on the program for the exercises of the day and it was reported generally that President Wilson might join his daughter, Mrs. McAdoo, at her home in the mountain resort section, and witness the affair.

TO HELP HERE

Will Assist in Conduct of Recreation Rooms in Town.

Capt. Mehling and Ensign Black, of the Salvation Army, have arrived here for work in camp. They will help with the work at the recreation rooms in the Presbyterian, Reformed, and Methodist churches.

WAS IN PARIS ON JULY FOURTH

Witnessed Thrilling Demonstrations by French in Honor of American Troops.

LETTER RECEIVED HERE

Saw Pershing Respond to Call of Parisian Populace to Appear on Balcony. A Great Day.

A vivid description of the reception given the American troops in France on Independence Day is contained in a letter received in Gettysburg today by M. R. Spear, representing the Young Men's Hebrew Association in their work at the local army camp.

The letter is from Dr. L. R. King, a dentist with an American hospital unit, operating with the French troops at the Marne Heights. After telling of meeting a brother whom he had not seen for two years and of seeing several old college friends from the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. King goes on to describe the celebration in Paris on the Fourth. He says: "To tell the truth, I have never seen anything like it in the States. In the morning I was fortunate enough to get into the Court of the Invalides and, when our own troops of the 16th Battalion marched in, headed by their band, the crowd yelled itself hoarse. Then came the territorial troops of France headed by their band.

"Presentations were then in order and the United States band played the 'Marseillaise' and the territorial band 'Star Spangled Banner.' What a beautiful moment! I felt a chill run right through me and I felt very proud of my own country, to say the least. Americans could have had anything.

"After the ceremonies at the Invalides a number of us went to the tomb of Lafayette where orations were in order by Brand Whitlock, Pershing, and others. Truly grand. During the course of the evening, in fact, all afternoon, demonstrations were held by the French for America and Americans.

"In the evening a massive crowd gathered around the Cercle Militaire, where Pershing and his staff were being feted, and yelled and cheered until he agreed to come out on the balcony. He did so, accompanied by the staff and a few Frenchmen. Quite some demonstration. Again at ten o'clock the crowd demanded that Pershing come out again, which he did. This time a few American officers came out on the balcony and sang the 'Marseillaise.' Can you imagine the French people at this moment? They were nearly overcome with joy. Everybody joined in.

"I say again it was a truly marvelous day."

BOLT BURNS BED

Henry Snell Unhurt. Spot Where he Lay only Part Uncharred.

When a bolt of lightning struck and damaged the Sprengle bungalow in Red Lion, occupied by Henry Snell, on Wednesday, it also struck the bed on which his son, Henry, was sleeping, burning the clothing instantly to a crisp, with the exception of a circular shaped portion on which he lay. His right foot was benumbed, but otherwise he was unhurt. Mrs. Snell standing by a window in the same room had one of her legs benumbed, and it became swollen, causing her much pain.

The chimney of the bungalow was thrown down, the roof was punctured with three holes, a hole was knocked in the kitchen door, the cornice on one side of the structure was burned, five rooms were damaged, in the parlor the flooring was ripped up and the carpet burned.

As there was only one peal of thunder following the stroke, it is believed that the same bolt after leaving the bungalow traveled across the street, where the home of Mrs. Anna Marks was struck and her children stunned. The damage there was slight.

WANTED: old false teeth. Don't matter if broken. I pay $2.00 to $15.00 per set. Send by parcel post and receive check by return mail. L. Mazer, 2007 S. Fifth St., Philadelphia, Pa.—advertisement 1

MILLINERY store for sale. The White Shop. Inquire Mildred Dubbs Weidmayer.—advertisement 1

IN THE WAR THEATRE

Russians Lose Two More Towns. Allied Attack Delayed.

(By Cable)

Amsterdam, Aug. 3.—Capture of Czernowitz by Austrian troops is announced in a dispatch from Vienna to-day. Czernowitz is an important town in Bukovina, and is one of the southern pivots in the Russian line.

Petrograd, Aug. 3.—Kimpolund, one of the strong strategic points in the southern section of the Russian line, was to-day announced by the war office to have been evacuated by Russian troops in the face of a vigorous attack.

London, Aug. 3.—The continued rains held up a renewal of the British-French drive in Flanders. Field Marshal Haig reported, however, that German attacks to re-take captured positions were unsuccessful.

DRIVEN TO SUICIDE

Rather than Undergo Draft Examination she Takes her Life.

(By Telegraph)

Toledo, Aug. 3.—Knowing that the draft's physical examination would reveal her twelve year secret of her sex and, that if she failed to appear she would be branded as a slacker, "Samuel Ackerman" ended her life by drowning to-day. No one knew of her secret but, although twenty nine years of age, she failed to register, and when the investigation came too close home, she elected to end her life rather than to again "become a woman."

ONE-FOURTH WILLING

All the Rest Want Freedom from Drafted Soldier.

(By Telegraph)

New York, Aug. 3.—More than seventy five per cent of Americans called up for examinations before boards claim right to exemption. Disqualifications on account of physical disability will be much higher in the cities than in the less congested districts.

WILL TAKE HOLD

Government will Assume Direction of All Ship Building.

(By Telegraph)

Washington, Aug. 3.—Commandeering of all shipping operations now in progress is predicted for an early date, as well as seizure of ship building yards. The Shipping Board, it is stated, is about ready to take these steps.

MUST RAISE PAY FOR TEACHERS

State Department Tells Boards to Take Notice that New Law is Effective.

Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, state superintendent of public instruction, informs school directors of the state that "there should be prompt compliance" with the law increasing the salaries of school teachers in public schools and says "since the taxes for the current school year have been levied, it may be necessary for some school boards to make temporary loans in order to make prompt payment of these increased salaries." Under the act the state pays the increase, but there will be reductions to allowances to schools in other respects.

Dr. Schaeffer calls attention to the fact that the appropriation for the school year 1916-1917 will be paid during the current year, while the increases paid will be refunded to the districts during the school year beginning July, 1918. New blanks will be prepared for reporting the increases paid, he says.

The bill increases the minimum salary for teachers with provisional certificates to $45 and effects 9,737 teachers, while the professional certificate teachers who will get $55 number 1,718. The permanent certificate teachers will get $60. They include 859 with state certificates, 1,489 with city or borough certificates and 2,238 with county certificates.

TENNIS, baseball and sporting goods of all kinds. People's Drug Store.—advertisement 1

WILL pay five cents for bran sacks. Musselman Canning Company. Biglerville, Pa.—advertisement 1

SOLVE MYSTERY OF FATAL NOTE

Think City Newspaper Men Added Suspicious Looking Parts to Letter.

WAS WRITTEN BY WOMAN

Highly Respected School Teacher Indignant over Turn Taken by Story of Suicide.

The mystery of the letter sent from Thurmont, which was published in the Baltimore papers as a note from a supposed affinity of his wife, in connection with the suicide of Joseph Bittner, a motorman, of Baltimore, recently, is solved.

As stated in yesterday's paper, it was learned at Thurmont that the letter was not written by a rival of the husband, as reported, but by a young lady, an intimate friend of Mrs. Bittner.

To-day it became known that "Wee Wee" of the note found by the authorities, was Miss Marie Eyer, of Thurmont, a respected school teacher at Four Points, but there was some modification of the text of the letter, as published, the people of Thurmont think, in order to make a readable story for the city newspapers.

Miss Eyer made the acquaintance of Miss Harner, the now Mrs. Bittner, while teaching at Four Points, and the two became very intimate. Six months ago the marriage of Miss Harner and Bittner occurred.

Among all of her close friends, Miss Eyer, who is a daughter of George Eyer, is known as "Wee Wee," this nickname having originated from the pronunciation given to her first name by a neighbor's child, some years ago. After Bittner committed suicide in a fit of despondency and the note signed by "Wee Wee" was found, the theory of another man in the case was evolved. Miss Eyer did write a note to Mrs. Bittner in regard to the visit on Sunday, but there were none of the intimations in the note which would lead one to the conviction that the wife was leaving the city to meet another man.

Naturally Miss Eyer and her friends do not relish the occurrence, and are anxious that the situation be cleared. According to the Baltimore reports, Bittner and his wife had quarreled before she left. It is said that Mrs. Bittner is still at her home. She was there Tuesday night when Miss Eyer called upon her.

POULTRY TO BE SCARCE

State Chicken Crop Far Below Standard, Officials Report.

The State's chicken crop is the latest one to be reported to be running below the standard of previous years, notwithstanding efforts made last winter to bring about an increase. Many settings of eggs were distributed and it is claimed at the Department of Agriculture, that if they had not been used the decline in poultry would be considerably greater.

The department experts who have been getting reports on chicken raising in the food conservation campaign, say there are probably a million and a half less chickens on the farms of the State as compared with a year ago. The high prices of fowls caused large sales to be made, while prices of grain for feed also caused some raisers to cut down their flocks.

ESCAPED U-BOAT

Tanker Arrives in Port after Lively Encounter in Mid-Ocean.

(By Telegraph)

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 3.—In a forty minute fight with a German submarine forty shots were exchanged, none of them taking effect, the crew of a tank steamer reported upon arriving here to-day.

NOTICE P. O. S. OF A. All members are requested to meet in Camp room at 8 p. m., Friday evening, to arrange to go to New Oxford, Saturday, August 4. All members with automobiles wishing to furnish transportation will be present. All members will parade in white uniforms.—advertisement 1

ON COMMITTEE

Local Pastor to Help Arrange for Event in 1918.

Rev. F. E. Taylor was on Thursday elected one of the committee to arrange for next year's Presbyterian reunion at Pen Mar. The committee is a large one but the only other member from this immediate vicinity is Rev. Seth R. Downie, of Taneytown. It was estimated that 5,000 attended the gathering on Thursday.

WANTS TO RUN

Would Like to Have Fourteen Mile Race.

Herman Dotz, a member of the headquarters' company of the Seventh Regiment, is anxious to find some one who will do a cross-country run with him from Gettysburg to Hanover. He does not care whether the other contestant be soldier or civilian.

OLD LANDMARK IS DESTROYED

Another of Famous Old Inns of Revolutionary Period is Burned.

An ancient landmark that dated back to the frontier days was destroyed on Wednesday, when the house on the old McCleary homestead near Dillsburg was burned down.

The house was of stone construction and was erected in 1789. It was then located on what was known as the Welsh and Robinson trail, between Washington and Fort Carlisle, and about a hundred years ago served as an inn for travelers, many of them distinguished men.

On a large date stone set in the gable end of the house was chiseled the names of Samuel Kniseley and Abraham Kniseley and wife, the builders of the house, 128 years ago. Its fame was at its height during this period, as it was much sought after by travelers and the men who relayed the mail to the Carlisle outpost. Beneath the house is a large wine cellar used in those days.

The trail was laid out by the two pioneers, Welsh and Robinson, from which it derived its name. These were the first two men who carried the mail over the route. It came into the McCleary family upon its purchase by the late Samuel McCleary. At the present time it is owned by J. L. McCleary, a Dillsburg baker.

When it was burned down it was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Arnold. Tuesday a slight fire broke out in the house but this it is thought, had been extinguished. That night the family retired as usual and about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning were awakened by a sharp clap of thunder to find the entire second story in flames. They were sleeping on the first floor. Had they not been awakened at the time it is highly probable that the entire family would have been burned with the house.

The fire consumed everything except the walls. Mr. McCleary may make an effort to restore the building.

SURPRISE PARTY

Guests Spend Evening with Mr. and Mrs. Bricka.

A surprise party was given for Mrs. J. W. Bricka on Tuesday evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Fair, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Null and sons, Preston and Walter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Reid McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. John Bollinger, Mrs. Harbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. James H. White, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reid and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bricka, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bricka, Elizabeth Herring, William Gillelan, Jr., Edgar Felix, John Herring, James Herring, Grace Small, Floyd Troxell, Cleason Fair, Myrtle Redding, Beas Plank, Jennie Furgerson, Laura Rohrbach, Hazel Bowling, Hazel Rager, Catherine Rohrbach, Denton Fair, Howard Small, Russel Rohrbach, Margaret Weikert, Mary Esther White, Esther Rohrbach, Donald Fair, Howard Plank, Marguerite Blair, Gladys Weikert, Harvey White, Thomas Small, Donald Smith, Haze Felix, Roy Rager, Roy Smith, Fred Heintzelman, Haze Beard, Donald Weikert, Nina Wolf, Alice Wolf, Albert Wolf, Kent Witherow, Mervin Plank.

STARTING August 2nd, the Gettysburg Ice and Storage Company will close daily, except Sunday, at 6 p. m.; Sunday at 12:30 p. m. Nothing sold after those hours.—advertisement 1

HANOVER LOOKS FOR REDUCTION

Request of Town's Representatives is Sent to Washington they are Told.

SWEENEY WRITES LETTER

Expect Quota to be Made Considerably Smaller in View of Data Presented to Authorities.

That Hanover's request for a reapportionment of the draft quota will be granted and that it will be credited for at least the major portion of the men who have volunteered from it is indicated in a letter received by T. J. O'Neill, from Col. Frank G. Sweeney in charge of the registration headquarters at Harrisburg. The letter follows:

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 1, 1917. Mr. T. J. O'Neill, Hanover, Pa.

Dear Sir:—We received your letter of the 24th inst., containing names of men that, you state, have enlisted in the regular army during the period of April 2nd to June 30th inclusive from York county. We have forwarded this list to the provost marshal general's office at Washington for consideration.

In reference to the National Guard, the Adjutant General of the State has written each Captain in the Guard requesting that they furnish the addresses of the men in their respective companies and if there are found any errors in these particular credits, we will, of course, make corrections of all quotas and credits calculated.

With reference to the enlistment of your men in the National Guard of other states, beg to state that Washington advises us that where a man goes into another state and enlists in the National Guard organization, that this is his own selection and that this state wherein he enlists gets the credit for the man, so that if any men from other states, and there has been a large number, come into your state to enlist in the National Guard, Pennsylvania would get the credit. For the army each man is supposed to be credited from the place where he resides.

Yours very truly,

FRANK G. SWEENEY, For Governor Brumbaugh.

Even with re-apportionment and proper credit for the volunteers, the county will be called upon to send out a considerable number.

YORK SPRINGS

York Springs—F. P. Starry, of Atlanta, Ga., was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Starry, several days recently. Mr. Starry is southern manager for Dodd Mead & Co. and came north to attend a convention. He also enjoyed a trip to Boston and Lexington before coming to York Springs.

Earl Miller and family, Mrs. Jacob Newcomer and Mrs. Mary Trostle were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey B. Trostle at Hanover Sunday.

R. M. Starry, of Mt. Union, was home over Sunday.

Rev. Roy Stock, president of the Lutheran College, at Guntur, India, was the guest of Rev. Paul Gladfelter over Sunday. Rev. Stock spoke at the three churches of the York Springs Lutheran Charge on Sunday in the interests of the Indian educational institution. The college at Guntur is the only Lutheran school in India and now has 1600 members enrolled from the various castes of natives.

Charles Lobaugh and family and William Weidner and family motored to Fairfield on Sunday where they were the guests of Paris Pentz and family.

Adam Lobaugh and Jonas Lobaugh and family spent Sunday with George Lobaugh, of Flora Dale.

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Myers have returned home from a trip to Atlantic City and Philadelphia.

Mrs. Mary McKee Johnston, of Greensburg, was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Jane Plank, several days recently.

H. G. Griest, of New York City, was a York Springs visitor over Sunday.

TOOTH brushes, powder, paste and mouth washes. All standard brands. People's Drug Store.—advertisement 1

LABORERS wanted. T. P. Turner.—advertisement 1

SEE Oyler and Spangler ad on another page.—advertisement 1

ALLIES DRIVE BACK FOE IN FLANDERS

British Force Germans Out of Recaptured Positions.

RE-ESTABLISH THEIR LINES

Teutons Are Throwing Their Best Troops into the Battle to Retrieve the Situation.

London, Aug. 3.—British troops again smashed back German defenses and retook the position in the neighborhood of the Ypres Roulers railway where German troops had resisted the advance, Field Marshal Haig reported.

He also reported a successful raid around Hagelcourt.

"A heavy incessant rain has fallen throughout the past forty-eight hours," says the statement.

"In the neighborhood of the Ypres Roulers railway, where the enemy has succeeded at great cost in gaining a foothold in our advanced positions, our counter-attack launched late in the evening drove back the German infantry at all points and completely re-established our former lines. On the remainder of the Ypres battle front there was no change.

"On the right of the British line southeast of Hagelcourt, our troops successfully raided the enemy's position and secured prisoners."

Telegraphing from British headquarters in France and Belgium, the correspondent of Reuters' limited, says:

"Despite the weather, there has been much hard fighting during the past twenty-four hours. The Germans were manifestly perturbed at our gaining so much high ground along the Pilken ridge and they launched several desperate counter attacks although these were repeatedly checked by our artillery. In places they reached the stage of hand-to-hand fighting of a ferocious character.

"The Germans are throwing in their best troops to retrieve the situation and their losses must be colossal. Our preponderance of gun power enables our artillery to maintain a steady barrage upon the rear of the new German line, so that reliefs have to be brought through this before they can organize for attack.

"The enemy artillery has been concentrating heavily upon certain sectors and the weather prevents our armor directing counter battery work to any extent."

Consolidating Their Gains.
British Front in France and Belgium Aug. 3.—The entente forces continued the consolidation of the ground which they wrested from Crown Prince Rupprecht in Tuesday's great drive.

There were no infantry operations aside from local attacks. The ground in the new battlefields has been turned into bog land by rain.

The Germans delivered two counter attacks just north of Frezenberg and in the second one achieved their objective. The first enemy attack was made at three o'clock P. M. This was repulsed. Three hours later the Germans put up a heavy smoke barrage and under cover of this again assaulted the section of the line in question and succeeded in penetrating the British positions along a front of some 300 yards. The British turned an intense artillery fire in these positions and at nine o'clock at night delivered a counter attack.

The heavy artillery duel continued in the region of St. Julien, from which place the British had withdrawn. The Germans turned a large number of heavy guns and field pieces on to the British position about St. Julien, while the British have been pouring a steady stream of shells into the village. The German artillery also concentrated an intense fire on the British lines along a 4000 yards front south of Frezenberg.

The brilliant work done by the British air service in Tuesday's battle was one of the remarkable phases of the allied drive. Despite the thick weather, which made observation most difficult, a huge fleet of airplanes preceded the advancing troops over the enemy territory and all day hovered low above the lines.

U. S. SURGEONS IN BATTLE

Do Excellent Work Beside Allied Medical Forces in Caring for Wounded.
British Front in France and Belgium Aug. 3.—America played a small but important part in the battle of Flanders.

A number of American "surgical teams," who were brought to the front from the base hospital by the director general of medical service, worked side by side with their British allies in caring for the wounded.

Each team consists of a surgeon, anesthetist, nurse and an orderly. They have been doing excellent work.

Airplane Sinks Submarine.

An American Port, Aug. 3.—A French battle plane, conveying a passenger ship which arrived from a French port, bombed and sank a large German submarine two days after the ship left port, her officers reported. The U-boats attacked the ship despite a convoy of destroyers and airplanes. A torpedo missed the ship's stern by fifty yards. An airplane swooped down and hurled a bomb that made a direct hit.

On Hinges.

For the convenience of persons obliged to take medicines while traveling, there has been invented a device resembling the bowls of a teaspoon and a tablespoon hinged together.

HERBERT C. HOOVER

He Will be Sole Food Administrator For U. S.

Photo by Clineinst.

This is the newest photograph of the man who President Wilson's victory over the senate made it certain will be the food administrator for the United States.

NORWAY WILL GIVE SHIPS TO GET FOOD

Facing Starvation Willing to Barter For U. S. Supplies.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Norway faces starvation if the United States cuts off exports of food.

She is ready to release a million tons of her shipping in return for the privilege of importing food principally from the United States.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, head of the Norwegian mission to the United States, declared that Norway faced starvation if the United States enforced an export embargo against her.

Dr. Nansen compared possible conditions with those existing during the Napoleonic wars when the Danish fleet was taken by the English and Norway was forced to side with France. He did not intimate that Norway would be compelled to abandon her neutrality, but said she would maintain her present position, as Norwegians can see no possible benefit to any one if they should take active sides.

Norway before the war had three million tons of shipping. The Germans have destroyed one million. Norway now needs one million for her own wants, and is willing to devote the remainder to the carrying needs of other countries.

What Norway needs now are fats, sugar and grain. Dr. Nansen said that Norway would give a guarantee that none of these things would be sent to Germany.

The Norwegian ships would be put into the eastwise trade as soon as congress revises the navigation laws to permit foreign ships to do so.

KAISER CALLS WAR COUNCIL

All High Military and Naval Leaders at Great Meeting.

Amsterdam, Aug. 3.—Emperor William has called a war council of the high military and naval leaders in Germany to meet at Brussels.

Field Marshal von Hindenburg, chief of the imperial general staff; General von Ludendorff, the quartermaster general; the German crown prince, commander of the German forces in the Champagne; Crown Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, in command of the Belgian front; Grand Duke Albert, of Wurtemberg; and Vice Admiral Edouard von Capelle, minister of the imperial navy, and others will be present.

CAPTAIN OF AVIATORS KILLED

Chief of Mineola Training Section Falls 800 Feet to Death.

Mineola, L. I., Aug. 3.—Captain Ralph L. Taylor, in command of the training section of the aviation section of the signal corps, lost control of his airplane and plunged 800 feet to his death.

Sergeant Thomas Pell, who was in the machine with him, suffered a broken jaw and internal injuries.

Captain Taylor had been in command of the instructors and students about two months and was an expert flyer. He was married two months ago. His home was in Stamford, Conn.

24 Lost on American Ship.

London, Aug. 3.—It was reported at the American consulate that twenty-four members of the crew of the American steamship Motano, which was sunk by a German submarine, on July 31, lost their lives. The American schooner John Hays Hammond has been sunk by gunfire by a German submarine. All members of the schooner's crew were saved.

"Goat" of the Sea.

The codfish has the reputation of being the goat of the sea. It will eat anything, and there are many records of its having performed some marvelous feats of swallowing.

KORNILOFF CHIEF OF RUSS ARMIES

Commander of Southwest Front Succeeds Brusiloff.

GERMANS ARE NEAR RIGA

The Muscovite Forces Again Give Ground on the Southern Front.
Duma Committee Issues Appeal to People.

Petrograd, Aug. 3.—General Brusiloff resigned as commander-in-chief of the Russian armies.

General Korniloff, who directed the recent Russian offensive below Lemberg, was named his successor.

General Tcherfinski, now commander of the eighth army, was named to succeed Korniloff in immediate command of the southwest front.

German forces have occupied the Uskull bridgehead, fifteen miles south east of Riga. The position had been evacuated by the Russians.

Between the River Zbrocz, on the Russo-Galician frontier and the Dniester river northwest of Kholm, the Russians abandoned their positions after a hard fought defense, says the war office statement.

Russian forces also retired in an easterly direction between the Dniester and the Pruth.

West of the Putra river, in the Carpathians, the Russians were pressed back.

In the Moldavia region, Russian troops took the offensive and drove back the enemy, capturing some prisoners.

The provisional committee of the Duma has made public an appeal to the people in which it says:

"The rift-raft of the army, overwhelmed by a fit of cowardice, is in flight. What has occurred in the army is merely an echo of what is happening all over Russia. This state of affairs is due to usurpation of the rights and powers of the government by organizations of irresponsible parties, and to the setting up of a dozen authorities at the center, while there is no authority at all on the spot.

"A catastrophe behind the front will bring with it the ruin of the army. This means the ruin of Russia. There is only one way of escape. That is the establishment of a firm, powerful authority, which should be prepared to exact from each and all the execution of their duty.

"The government must be strong and unambiguous. It must make for a single goal, the defense of our country against the mortal peril that threatens us from the quarrels of the revolutionists and the sweeping away of all authority on the spot.

"The chief problem of the government lies in immediate organization and in the administration of justice without which all reforms by the government must fail of realization. Until the convocation of the constituent assembly, all legislative acts tending to radical change in the present regime whether of the government or of the social order in general, and tending to introduce even greater disturbance into the ideas of the people's rights, must not be allowed."

Teutons Advance in Bukovina.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—Austro-German troops have made further advances in Bukovina.

They are now before Kimpoling, says the army headquarters announcement.

North of Czernowitz and south of the Dniester they are approaching the Russian frontier.

The Russian Carpathian forces are in retreat between the Pruth and the Kelm mountains.

TO PROBE FLOUR MILLS

Investigators Will Seek Light on Costs at Minneapolis.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The federal trade commission will begin next week a flour milling investigation as a part of its general food inquiry.

A corps of investigators under Dr. E. O. Merchant, of the commission, will leave for Minneapolis within a few days. Other agents of the commission will go later to Chicago.

Decision to go into the subject of milling costs was reached after a conference with officials of the food administration. At the request of the food administration the commission will take up soon also the subject of cost and trade conditions in the baking industry.

Navy Not a Poison Squad.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Navy men are "no poison squad," says Paymaster General McGowan, chief of the navy's bureau of supplies and accounts, in an order insisting on rigid inspection of food purchases. "It is directed," he said, "that every effort be made to try on the navy any experiments or tests of any food products whatever shall be promptly suppressed. It should be constantly borne in mind that doubtful food is bad food and will be treated as such."

Kaiser Says Allies Failed.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—Emperor William telegraphed to Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria his congratulations on the great success of the fourth army on July 31, "whereby the vehement Anglo-French attack intended to conquer the coast of Flanders failed."

WANTED: girl for general housework. Address Lock Box 373.—advertisement

GEN. VON FALKENHAYN

Conqueror of Rumania Now Leading the Turks.

Photo by American Press Association

General von Falkenhayn, who was replaced by von Hindenburg as chief of the German general staff and then conquered Rumania, is now commanding the Turkish forces defending Jerusalem.

ANTI-GERMAN RIOTS IN LOWDEN, IA.

Four Arrests on Charge of Treason Follow.

Lowden, Ia., Aug. 3.—Four persons were arrested by federal officers charged with treason and resisting the government.

This action followed an outbreak that approached a riot between citizens and pro-Germans.

The prisoners are: Albert Schaefer, sixty-five, retired farmer; William Richman, sixty-two, retired farmer; Earnest Meier, sixty-five, retired farmer, and Carl Gerhl, thirty-six, farmer. All are reputed to be wealthy. Richman has a son who enlisted in the army and he is reported to have said that he would rather see the boy dead than bearing arms against Germany.

The trouble began early in July and it was said to have been accentuated by the dragging of a German flag behind an automobile in the Fourth of July parade. Feeling between the loyal and pro-German elements has increased since then.

Tuesday night, Rev. John Reichert, pastor of the German Evangelical church was arrested on a charge of treason. He was questioned in the office of Daniel D. McGilvray, an attorney, and then taken to Cedar Rapids. A crowd assembled before McGilvray's office, threatening to lynch him. The mayor and marshal of the town and the sheriff of Cedar county were summoned to conference with the federal men.

Mayor Louis Meitje protested his loyalty to the United States, but admitted that he had taken no steps toward the arrest of the trouble-makers. The Germans were warned to conduct all public conversations in English.

MINE CAVE WRECKS HOME

Mother and Six Children Narrowly Escape Death.

Scranton, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Fred Kitzman and her six children, ranging in age from eighteen months to ten years, narrowly escaped being injured or killed when a mine cave badly damaged their home in South Scranton.

An opening, thirty by twenty feet was caused by the settling which carried down a part of the building.

When the family was not in the building when the cave occurred was due to the action of a miner who climbed through a nearby hole, caused by a recent cave and warned them of the danger. Mrs. Kitzman was putting one of her younger children to bed at the time, but fortunately all succeeded in leaving the house before the real settling started.

Two weeks ago Mr. Kitzman was almost killed while walking to his work. When a short distance from the house the earth under him gave way and but for the action of his wife, in helping him out of the hole, with the aid of a clothesline, it is believed he would have been smothered.

Singer Killed in Motor Crash.

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 3.—Miss Florence Phillips, a contralto soloist, was instantly killed, and four other passengers were seriously injured when their motor car struck a telephone pole on the Ocean drive at Elmhurst. Two of the injured are Frank Williams, a shipbuilder, of Washington, and Ole May, of Detroit, cartoonist with the Newark Star-Engle.

Daniels Names Uniontown Man.
Washington, Aug. 3.—Paul W. Yeisley, of Uniontown, Pa., was appointed provisionally a dental surgeon in the navy by Secretary Daniels.

The Weather.

Forecast for this section: Fair to day and probably tomorrow; not quite so warm; moderate winds.

We clean and dye anything. York City Laundry, opposite Post Office.—advertisement

PERSONAL NOTES AND BRIEF ITEMS

Short Paragraphs of Interest.
Guests in Many Gettysburg Homes.

MANY VISIT ELSEWHERE

Mention of People on Short Journeys to Nearby Towns and those Spending the Day with Friends here.

Miss Ada Williams, of West Middle street, is spending the day with friends at New Oxford.

Mrs. James Cannon, of Pittsburgh, is spending some time at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tipton, Chambersburg street.

Capt. and Mrs. J. M. Weigle have returned to their home in Baltimore after a visit with friends in town.

William Martin, Baltimore street, made a business trip to Baltimore today.

Mrs. J. A. Tawney, of West Middle street, and Mrs. George Pretz, of Lebanon, are spending the day in York.

Mrs. John B. Settle, of Seven Stars, is spending several days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James O. G. Weaver, Stevens street.

Carl Plank, of Harrisburg, is spending several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rinehart, Liberty street.

Mrs. J. Frank Dougherty and daughters, Elsie, Louise, and Mary Elizabeth, who have been visiting friends here, have returned to their home at Hazleton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lester Holler, of Camp Hill, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Stallsmith, East Middle street.

Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Trostle and family, of Baltimore street, are spending a week at Atlantic City.

Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Crist, who have been visiting friends and relatives here, have returned to their home at Montgomery.

Rev. and Mrs. Henry Anstadt, of Washington, D. C., are spending several days in Gettysburg.

E. S. Plank, of St. Louis, is spending several days with his family on Carlisle street.

Mrs. Roy Eckenrode, of Stratton street, is spending the day in Hagerstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hoffman and two sons, Robert and Roy, of Quaker Valley, and Misses Ellen and Eva Oyler have motored to Atlantic City to spend some time.

Misses Kathryn Kehn and Charlotte Ahrens, of York, are visiting Miss Sara McCullough, at her home on East Middle street.

Miss Martha E. King, of New York City, is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. William E. Voorhes, on North Stratton street.

THE KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SIMPLE LUNCHEONS.

PEA SALAD.—Scant cupful of left-over peas, three tablespoonfuls of chopped sweet pickles, one teaspoonful of minced onion. Mix thoroughly and heap on two plates covered with crisp lettuce. Sprinkle grated cheese on top. Cover with any preferred dressing.

Peasant Salad.—Soak a pint of pea-nut meats in olive oil, drain and mix lightly with the same quantity of diced celery and a dozen pitted olives. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Ham Cakes.—Any bits of cold ham can be worked up with cold potatoes and made into quite a tasty dish for luncheon. Put the ham through the food chopper and mix with an equal quantity of potatoes, using an egg or not as preferred. Shape into small cakes, dip in flour and fry in pork (salt) or bacon fat.

Vegetable Consomme.—Melt one-fourth cupful of butter, add one turnip, one carrot and one potato cut into dice and one sliced onion and stir and cook until a light brown. Remove from the fire, add one-half cupful of celery tops, one cupful of tomatoes, a sprig of parsley, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper and two quarts of cold water. Cover and let simmer one hour. Add one teaspoonful of kitchen bouquet, strain, reheat and serve.

Peanut Soup.—Peanut soup is made like a dried pea soup. Soak three cupfuls of nut meats overnight in two quarts of water, add a stalk of celery, a bay leaf, a slice of onion and a blade of mace. Simmer four or five hours, stirring often to avoid scorching. Rub through a sieve and return to the fire. When hot add a cupful of rich milk or cream, boil it and serve with croutons.

Macaroni and Kidney.—One-half pound beef kidney, one-quarter pound macaroni, one chopped onion, two cupfuls water, one-half teaspoonful salt, one-quarter teaspoonful pepper. Remove the core, skin and fat from the kidney and cut it in small pieces. Place the kidney in a saucepan, add macaroni, onion, water and seasonings. Cover and place in a fairly hot oven and let it cook for two and one-half hours.

TRY York City Laundry opposite Post Office.—advertisement

OXFORD SALE--- NOW

WOMENS' ODDS & ENDS; 100 Pairs $1.48 & 1.98

Womens' Regular Stock Patents and Tans 30 per cent. Off.
" " " Gun Metal 20 " "
" " " Vici Kid 10 " "

Men's and Boys' Regular Stock,
ALL LEATHERS 10 Per cent. OFF.
Children's Regular Stock

ALL LEATHERS 10 Per cent. OFF.
No White Canvas Goods Are Reduced.
Cash Only, At These Prices.

ECKERT'S STORE,
"ON THE SQUARE"

DRIVING NECESSITIES

FLY NETS: an attractive assortment from which to make a selection. Linen and Cotton nets, and the more durable Leather ones. We have them for single or double teams, and at a variety of prices which will meet all demands.

WHIPS, LAP SPREADS, OILS, GREASE, and the many other things needed by the man with horse and vehicle.

Adams County Hardware Co.
Baltimore Street, Gettysburg.

HOT WEATHER SPECIALS

Toilet Articles and Preparations
Face Powder, Talcum Powder, Toilet Waters, Perfumes, Toilet Soaps, Face Towels, Bath Towels, Combs, Brushes, Tooth Brushes and Tooth Pastes.

TRUNKS
Trunks for the soldier in camp and the summer tourist. Prices and styles to suit all.

BICYCLES
Bicycles, Bicycle Tires and Sundries

WASHING MACHINES
A Washing Machine is one of the greatest labor-saving inventions. We have several kinds, all good. If you are interested in a Power Washing Machine. Two tubs can be operated at the same time with same power.

KEEP THE FLIES OUT
Porch Swings, Window Screen, Screen Doors, Sprinkling Hose and Sprinkling Cans.

Full line of Supplies for the Camp and Camping Parties.

Gettysburg Department Store.

ANNOUNCEMENT

With the addition of an Automobile Funeral Car we are now equipped to attend promptly to calls from distant parts of the county.

H. B. BENDER,
Both Phones Funeral Director Gettysburg.
Cashtown Branch.
In Charge of M. E. FREED.

Cardboard as Drier.

Chloride of calcium is sometimes used to absorb moisture and keep certain photographic products dry, such as platinum paper or carbon paper; but a photographer has discovered that cardboard of the heavy kind will act as a good drier. The card is used in rough sheets, it being well dried by heat and then wrapped in waxed paper so as to leave only the edge of the board free and thus not absorb moisture too quickly.

The "Well of Jacob."

The "well of Jacob" in Palestine is about a mile and a half east of the town of Shechem. It is also called "The well of the Samaritan woman." It is about 75 feet deep and of all the special localities connected with the life of Jesus Christ is almost the only one absolutely undisputed, and it is excavated in the solid rock, is nine feet in diameter. Sometimes it contains a few feet of water; at other times it is dry.

Corn Needs Little Cultivation.

In Illinois farmers found that once the corn roots were fully established in the soil, their attraction for the moisture was so great that very little moisture escaped. The only cultivation they found valuable was to keep down the weeds, which used up the moisture. Three-fourths of the corn roots do not go deep, but establish themselves in the cultivated soil, and the less they are disturbed at their meals the better crop results are attained.

Well Healed.

The shipwrecked sailor sat alone on a lonely raft in the middle of the trackless ocean. In his hands he held the last remnants of a pair of shoes. "Though reduced to the lowest extremities and completely surrounded by water," he croaked hoarsely, "I can still take to my heels." With these words he made his semi-weekly meal and spent the remainder of the afternoon picking the nails out of his teeth.

NEWS FROM THE COUNTIES NEARBY

Franklin, Cumberland, and York Contribute Share of Happenings.

OF MUCH INTEREST HERE

Paragraphs of News Items from the Sections Immediately Adjoining Adams County.

FRANKLIN COUNTY

THERMOMETER BURST

The fellow who took his thermometer indoors on Monday because he didn't want it to "burst" wasn't as much of a joker as people supposed. Such things can happen. Such a thing did actually happen on Monday afternoon in the height of the awful heat.

It was in the foundry of the Landis Tool Co., Waynesboro. The thermometer in the office had reached 105. The men were curious to know the heat pressure in the shop and took it out there where the men were pouring the hot metal. The fluid rapidly shot up to 120, the limit, and then—the machine went bust. The bulb at the bottom of the tube exploded and the quicksilver all ran out, which was the end of that thermometer. Just how much hotter than 120 it was in the foundry no one has any idea. They will have to make a higher-power thermometer for Waynesboro heat.

WANTED THE MACHINE

A more or less expert auto thief some nights ago took the Willys-Knight automobile of William Hall, in Southampton township, from a shed on his farm and made a joy-ride of the night. Late in the night when the car was found missing, several men employed by Mr. Hall following the tracks of the missing car started to hunt the machine. The traces led to Greenvillage and from there into a byroad toward the mountain. At some distance from Greenvillage the car was found abandoned. The thief had made a futile effort to repair it and let the tools which he had taken from the car lie around. All evidence indicated that either a boy or lady, the latter suspected from handmarks, had been engaged in the theft. There was nothing for the owner to do but to take the machine to the nearest garage and have it repaired. Up to this time he is without evidence to convict the marauders.

ORDER FOR 20,000 BLANKETS

The Home Woolen Mills Company, of Chambersburg, is a busy place these days. The plant is working night and day in order to keep up with their orders. The company has received another order from the government for 20,000 saddle blankets, to be delivered as soon as possible. These blankets are to be sent to the Rock Island, Illinois, arsenal. The company is complemented on the good quality of goods they are turning out.

SON WILL CONDUCT HOTEL

Hotel Montgomery, Chambersburg, will be conducted in the future by Jesse D. Laird, youngest son of the late William A. Laird. Mr. Laird has been connected with the hotel for many years and is well and favorably known both in that section and among traveling people. The license for the hotel was taken out Wednesday in Mr. Laird's name and he will assume control at once. The will of the late William A. Laird, of Chambersburg, was probated Wednesday. He bequeaths to his wife and children his entire estate and names Mrs. Laird as executrix. His real estate is valued between $45,000 to $50,000. The value of the personal property is placed between $6000 and $8000.

HEAT KILLS AGED MAN

Samuel Heckman, an aged resident living about a half mile south of Le-masters on the Upton road, was found dead Tuesday afternoon in the lane leading to the pasture field. He had gone to drive the cows home for milking, and being absent longer than usual, his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Henry Heckman, made investigation, finding his dead body. She summoned some men, who carried his body to the house. It is supposed that the heat was responsible for Mr. Heckman's death. He was 77 years, 5 months and 23 days old, and had resided at his present home for the past 25 years.

YORK COUNTY

TO MINE SOFT COAL

Joseph Black, of York, is president of the Black Elk Coal and Mining company, whose offices are to be located in York and which expects to be shipping coal from its mine in Clearfield county within the next 60 days. The company is to be capitalized at $100,000, common stock, and a charter will be applied for Friday, August 24. Constituting the company are: president, Joseph Black; vice president and general manager, Charles Elkinton, Philadelphia; secretary and treasurer, R. S. Cannon, York; assistant treasurer, Samuel Ruby, York; and George J. Haenn, Philadelphia.

Secretary-Treasurer Cannon told newspaper reporters Thursday that the concern has already started operations in its mine of 640 acres near Irvona, Chest township, Clearfield county, recently purchased, containing a rich vein of bituminous coal. Mr. Cannon stated that most of the company's product will be sold to York industrial establishments.

HEADS KEYSTONE MACHINE CO.

The Keystone Machine Company which has taken the Keystone Farm Machine company plant, York, recently sold by the receiver, O. H. Lucas, to Henry C. Niles for $100,000, at a meeting of the stockholders held Thursday night at Hillcroft, the suburban home of Mr. Niles, organized by choosing these officers: president, Ralph S. Cannon; vice president, O. H. Lucas; secretary, Charles A. May, and treasurer, Michael Niles. The charter of the new company, which provides for the manufacture of machinery and articles of commerce from metal or wood or both, was received Thursday from Harrisburg and entered in the office of Recorder of Deeds Newman. The present capital of the company is $5,000 but at the meeting Thursday night it was decided to increase the capital to $400,000 and place a mortgage of $150,000 on the plant. The present directors of the company are Michael S. Niles, Charles A. May and Harry H. Sprengle.

CUMBERLAND CO

BUG IN HER EAR

The Walnut Bottom correspondent of the News-Herald Times says: Mrs. Ella Hamon returned to Carlisle last Thursday after spending a week at her home. She had quite a painful experience with a black bug flying in her ear. A doctor was summoned in the early hours of the morning and after some difficulty succeeded in removing the insect.

CHILD DRANK OIL

The year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Barbour, of Laurel, Wednesday drank some kerosene out of a can standing on the porch, and is critically ill as a result. Dr. H. H. Longsdorf, of Dickinson, was summoned and he administered antidotes to counteract the effect of the poison. The little girl may not recover and it can not be ascertained before Monday whether there is any hope of escaping death.

BOY INJURED BY TRUCK

Jumping from the large delivery truck of the Imperial Department Store, Carlisle, nearly caused serious consequences for Currey Boyd, son of J. J. Boyd, the manager of the store. While the truck was in motion on High street, the young man attempted to jump from it. As a result he was thrown underneath the truck and one wheel passed over his body. W. J. McCulley took the lad home immediately and a doctor was summoned. He reported no broken bones and unless there are internal injuries, recovery will be soon. The only evident consequences are bruises and the shock.

GET RID OF THIS "BOWERY"

Shippensburg ought to get a larger police force and get rid of its "bowery" as the newspapers of that town call it. The Shippensburg News says: A gang of men congregated there between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock Sunday morning and through the influence of too much whiskey, started a fight, intermingled with the most hideous language imaginable. So abusive became the conduct of these people, that residents of that neighborhood were awakened from their slumbers and it was found necessary to call up the police, who promptly answered the call but unfortunately came too late. During the fight, one man received a blow which felled him to the hard pavement and a pool of blood was yet to be seen in the morning.

Cotton Is Ancient

Just who discovered cotton is not known. The early records are so incomplete that no individual can be credited with the discovery of the value of this wonderful plant. Long before Caesar's time, among the Hindus, they had a law that if you stole a piece of cotton you were fined three times its value. Most of the early nations were familiar with cotton—the early Egyptians, Chinese and other ancient people used it and valued it.

Eighth of Hebrew Prophets.

Habakkuk was eighth in order of the minor Hebrew prophets. The strophical arrangement of the denunciation of the Chaldeans is a remarkable feature of his prophecy. The whole concludes with a magnificent psalm in chapter 3, a composition that has been considered unrivaled for boldness of conception, sublimity of thought and majesty of diction.

LESS FERTILIZER IS BEING USED

State Watches Carefully Figures on this Question and Has the Data.

SAMPLES WERE ANALYZED

Fees of More than One Thousand Dollars Received. Matters of Importance to All Concerned.

Less commercial fertilizer was used by the farmers of Pennsylvania during 1916 than during preceding years that the Department of Agriculture has been registering brands of fertilizers and receiving tonnage sale reports, says the department bulletin. The records show that during the past year 268,455 tons of commercial fertilizers were used in the state and they also show a further decrease in the number of registered brands offered by the various manufacturers and importers.

In 1914 the high mark of registered brands and chemicals totaled 1,834, but with the European war there was a decrease in 1915 to 1,488 brands and last year there were only 1,411 brands registered. Many brands that contained potash and other ingredients of which there is a scarcity or prohibitive price on account of the war were withdrawn from the market. In 1914 the largest total tonnage was reported at 323,148 tons, while in 1915 this was reduced to 316,319 tons and last year to 268,455 tons.

During the past year 2,468 samples of commercial fertilizers were collected and sent to the Department of Agriculture and of this number 1,377 samples were analyzed. Eighty-nine suits were instituted as the result of the analysis and the collection of samples, seventy-two cases being brought for non-registration of brands and seventeen cases for deficiency in fertilizers as guaranteed. This protection to the farmer in assuring him in securing the fertilizing elements he was paying for has been of especial benefit. In the eighty-nine actions, fines and costs amounting to $1,906.16 were recovered and turned into the State Treasury. The registration of the 1,411 brands of fertilizers and chemicals brought fees amounting to $24,475, which was turned into the State Treasury.

The use of lime as a soil amending factor is observed in the reports of the department covering the first year of operation of the lime act which shows that there were 321,948 tons of lime sold under the provisions of the law.

During the past year 219 brands of agricultural lime products were registered and fees amounting to $1,095 were collected and turned into the State Treasury. The lime act does not cover the tonnage of lime taken from the place of production by the purchaser in bulk. And one of the difficult features of the enforcement of the lime law was to get the small producer to understand his liability.

In the tonnage registration of lime used for agricultural purposes there is no record required from farmers burning their own limestone in the fields and it is probable that almost twice the amount of lime was used on the farms of the state as is recorded in the figures reported of official tonnage sold under the provisions of the lime law.

BENDERSVILLE

Bendersville—Mrs. George Taylor and children, Elizabeth, George, William, and Vivian, of Pittsburgh, are guests of Mrs. William Taylor and family, North Main street.

Miss Catharine Hoover, of Harrisburg, is visiting friends in and near town.

Miss Bessie Bushman, of Carlisle, is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hutton.

H. W. Raffensperger, of Harrisburg, is spending a few days with his family, in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. William Baumgardner and family recently visited friends in Orrtanna.

Mrs. John N. Peters has returned home after a two weeks' visit with friends in Harrisburg and Mifflintown.

Mrs. O. P. House and son, Spencer, spent Thursday with friends at Gettysburg.

Mrs. James Martin and children, Geraldine and James, and Mrs. Fred Yeager, of Harrisburg, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright.

Misses Ethel Wright, Mabel Leonard, and Beulah Harris, spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright, of Aspers.

Misses Hattie and Zula Brady, of Harrisburg, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Rice.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Knouse recently visited friends in York Springs.

Miss Anna Michener is spending some time in New York.

Eli Irvin, of Alliance, Ohio, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Lucy Blocher.

CHURCH NOTICES

GETTYSBURG U. B.

Sunday School, 9:30 a. m.; Christian Endeavor, 6:30 p. m.; evening worship, 7:30 p. m.; address by R. C. Jacobson, secretary of Y. M. C. A., 60th Infantry.

SALEM U. B.

Sunday School, 9:00 a. m. No preaching service.

FAITH TABERNACLE

Sunday School, 1:30 p. m.; preaching, 2:30 and 7:30. All welcome. The pastor, Rev. A. W. Law, will preach. A gospel open-air service will be held at Biglerville on Saturday evening, (August 4th).

CASHTOWN CHARGE

Services at Fairfield at 10:00 a. m.; Cashtown, 7:30 p. m.

HEIDELBERG U. B.

Quarterly conference at Idaville. Official meeting Saturday 2:00 p. m.; preaching, 8 p. m. Sunday School, 9 a. m.; preaching, 10:00 a. m., Holy Communion will follow. Christian Endeavor, 7:00 p. m.; preaching, 8 p. m. August 8th at Heidelberg: preaching, 8 p. m.

BENDERSVILLE LUTHERAN

Sunday School, 9:00 a. m.; Junior Christian Endeavor, 6:00 p. m.; missionary meeting, 7:45 p. m.

BENDER'S REFORMED

Union Sunday School, 9 a. m.; preaching, 10 a. m.

ARENDTSTADT REFORMED

Sunday School, 9 a. m. No church service. Union Christian Endeavor, 6:30 p. m.

BIGLERVILLE REFORMED

Sunday School, 9 a. m.; missionary meeting, 7:30 p. m.

FAIRFIELD LUTHERAN

No preaching on Sunday. A congregational meeting will be held on Sunday, August 12.

BIGLERVILLE LUTHERAN

Sunday School, 9:00; preaching, 10:00.

BENDER'S LUTHERAN

Sunday School, 1:00; preaching, 2:00.

ST. JAMES LUTHERAN

Sunday School, 9:15 a. m.; morning worship, 10:30, with preaching by Rev. S. W. Herman, of Harrisburg; Christian Endeavor, 6:15; evening worship, 7:30, with preaching by Rev. G. N. Laufer, of Steelton.

METHODIST

R. S. Oyler, Ph. D., pastor. Sunday School, 9:30; preaching, 10:30, subject "Realizing God". Epworth League, 6:30; preaching, 7:30, subject "A Big Building Corporation Fails". Special music.

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

Stratton Street: Sunday School, 9:30; preaching, 10:30 and 7:30. Marsh Creek: Sunday School, 9:30; Christian Workers' meeting, 7:30. Friends' Grove: Sunday School, 9:30; preaching, 7:30.

LOWER MARSH CREEK

Sunday School, 9:30; Rev. Martin L. Clare will preach at 10:30.

BASE BALL SCORES

Following is the Result of Games Played Yesterday.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At St. Louis—Philadelphia, 6; St. Louis, 0. Batteries—Oeschger, Adams; Goodwin, Snyder.

At Chicago—Chicago, 6; Boston, 4 (last game). Batteries—Hendrix, E. Hot; Barnes, Tregresser.

Boston, 4; Chicago, 3. (2d game.)

At Pittsburgh—New York, 7; Pittsburgh, 3. Batteries—Beaton, Rariden; Miller, Schmidt.

At Cincinnati—Brooklyn, 6; Cincinnati, 2. Batteries—Cheney, Miller; Schneider, Wingo.

Standing of the Clubs.

N. York. 59 30 658 Brooklyn. 45 46 506 Philadelphia. 48 40 545 Chicago. 49 50 495 St. Louis. 52 45 536 Boston. 39 53 424 Cincinnati. 54 49 524 Pittsburgh. 31 65 323

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

At Philadelphia—Athletics, 5; Cleveland, 4. Batteries—Schauer, Hacy; Gould, O'Neill.

At New York—St. Louis, 3; New York, 0. (1st game.) Batteries—Groom, Severid; Russell, Walters.

New York, 2; St. Louis, 1. (2d game.) Batteries—Shawkey, Nunn; maker, Severid.

At Boston—Chicago, 7; Boston, 1. Batteries—Faber, Schalk; Shore, Agnew.

At Washington—Washington, 4; Detroit, 2. Batteries—Gallia, Henry; Ehmske, Stange.

Standing of the Clubs.

W. L. P. C. Chicago. 63 37 630 N. York. 50 46 521 Boston. 49 37 615 Wash. D. C. 42 56 425 Cleveland. 54 48 529 Athletics. 35 58 371 Detroit. 52 47 525 St. Louis. 37 63 374

When Racoons Take Chances.

The fondness of racoons for green corn leads them into frequent danger, for, when bottomland corn tempts them away from their usual haunts, racoon hunting with dogs at night becomes an especially favored sport. Racoons are remarkably intelligent animals and make interesting and amusing pets.

New Kind of Mucilage.

Mucilage which can be used in both tick and book form, and of which only the quantity desired at any particular time can be utilized, has been invented, the purpose being to guard the loss consequent upon the drying of liquid mucilage.

His Hair Was Valuable.

A Chicago contractor who says his hair came out as the result of treatment at a hospital sues for $10,000. It is as much as to say to the court. Before a hair of my head was harmed I was a $10,000 beauty.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

BRING ORPHAN PLAYERS HOME

Cheaper to Have Club Stay here than to Let it Go, Management Finds.

WON FROM HAGERSTOWN

Baker Took Last of Four Games on Trip to Southern Towns. Play Frederick here To-Day.

After four days of wandering on foreign fields the Orphans, as Ward's Ponies have lately been dubbed, returned to Gettysburg to-day and ceased being a nomadic road club, with no parent town.

Gettysburg directors found it would involve just about twice as much loss to allow the team to leave the town, as it would to stick to the end of the season, and they asked the league to be allowed to bring it back. This was done and on Friday a canvass for funds was made with satisfactory results. It was continued to-day.

In addition to saving the $550 posted forfeit, the club will also have a chance to dispose of several players to good advantage and hope to finish the season with the deficit not alarmingly large. The men on the team profess keen regret for their hasty action of last Saturday afternoon, and they were scored rather heavily at a meeting of league moguls this week. It is said that the players will have to pay the $100 forfeit for failing to play the game.

The club returns to Gettysburg to-day to play Frederick here. Their southern trip was just about as disastrous as usual, three defeats and one victory being the record. Baker pitched them to a 3-1 win over Hagerstown Thursday.

GETTYSBURG

	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Yim, cf	5	1	1	0	0	0
Jones, ss	3	0	0	0	4	0
Dykes, 2b	1	0	5	3	1	1
Ward, 1b	4	0	2	9	1	2
Dunn, cf	4	0	2	0	2	0
Sykes, rf	4	1	1	2	1	0
Beden, 3b	3	0	0	2	2	0
Shollenberger, c	4	0	2	6	0	0
Baker, p	4	0	0	2	0	0
Totals	35	3	6	27	13	3

HAGERSTOWN

	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Dyset, rf	5	1	2	0	0	0
Butts, cf	5	0	2	2	0	0
Courtenay, 3b	3	0	0	4	2	0
Hurley, 1b	4	0	1	12	1	1
Miller, lf	4	0	1	1	0	0
Caddin, 2b	3	0	1	0	3	0
Meyer, ss	4	0	2	7	1	0
Mace, c	3	0	0	6	1	1
Herbert, p	3	0	0	0	1	0
Totals	34	1	7	27	14	4

SCORE BY INNINGS

Gettysburg . . . 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—3
Hagerstown . . . 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1

SUMMARY

Two-base hits—Yim, Sykes, Shollenberger and Caddin; three-base hit—Butts; first base on balls—off Baker, 3; struck out—by Herbert, 6; by Baker, 6; stolen bases—Shollenberger (2) and Sykes; umpire—McClary.

BEAT MOUNTAINEERS

Hanover Takes Game from the League Leaders.

Hanover played errorless ball Thursday and, in spite of Martinsburg's heavy hitting, held them to only two runs. The Raiders won 7-2.

HANOVER

	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Spencer, lf	5	0	1	4	0	0
Mack, 1b	4	2	15	1	0	1
Elliott, 2b	3	1	2	2	0	0
Bitting, ss	4	2	0	1	5	0
St. Martin, cf	5	1	2	1	0	0
Tillman, 3b	4	0	0	0	4	0
Lamond, c	5	0	1	3	0	0
Dolan, rf	4	0	0	0	0	0
Haid, p	4	1	1	2	0	0
Totals	38	7	9	27	14	0

MARTINSBURG

	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Thompson, 2b	5	0	3	4	5	1
Bates, lf	5	1	1	1	0	0
Blue, 1b	4	0	2	10	0	1
Rawlings, rf	4	0	1	1	0	0
Percy, lf	4	1	2	0	0	0
Morris, cf	4	0	2	1	0	0
Stroh, c	4	0	0	4	2	1
O'Brien, 3b	4	0	0	3	2	1
Epting, p	4	0	1	2	0	0
Totals	38	2	11	27	12	4

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

Published Daily, Except Sunday
Times and News Publishing CompanyW. LAVERIE HAFER, Secretary and Treasurer.PHILIP R. BIKLE, President.

PHILIP R. BIKLE, Editor

Subscriptions Served by carrier in Gettysburg for 25 cents per month.
Mailed outside of Gettysburg for 25 cents per month.
RATES: Single copies to non-subscribers, 2 cents.

If you receive THE TIMES by mail you can find the date up to which you are paid on the pink address label on your paper. The date will be changed within ten days after your money is received at The Times Office.

Entered August 15, 1904, at Gettysburg, Pa., as second-class matter, under Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

BELL PHONE 6-M
Office in Northwest corner of Centre Square, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.UNITED PHONE 91-W Office in Northwest corner of Centre Square, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

Our advertising columns are open to all candidates of all parties. Want ads. One cent per word each insertion. Two cents a word if guaranteed first page position. Resolutions of respect, poetry and memorials, one cent per word.

TO OUR READERS

The Gettysburg Times takes absolutely no part in politics, being neutral on all such matters. Anything that appears in our general news columns, concerning state or national politics, is furnished us by The American Press Association, a concern which gives the same news to Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, or Socialist papers and which is strictly non-partisan.

(Medical Advertising)

For Sweaty Feet With Offensive Odors

Don't wait another day. You can remove the disagreeable odors instantly with a single application of Dash's Foot Balm.

Druggists who know, say that Dash's Balm is the speediest and most effective preparation they have ever handled for tired, aching, perspiring, ill-smelling feet.

The very minute that this wonderful foot balm touches these sore, tender, puffed up, burning, aching feet, you will get relief. It's simply amazing how quickly it acts, and no matter what odors may tell you, there's nothing just as good.

Get a small box to-day on the money back if dissatisfied plan, but be sure to avoid substitutes. Look for the name Dash Foot Balm on every package. People's Drug Store can supply you.

PUBLIC SALE

SATURDAY, AUGUST 4th, 1917.
The undersigned will sell at public sale at the residence of the late James A. Adams, in Highland Township, midway between Keystone and Knox-lynn Mills, the following:ONE HORSE
One horse, "Dandy," 8 years old, will work wherever hitched and a good driver; anyone wishing a good heavy farm horse should see this one.FARMING IMPLEMENTS
One horse "Columbus" wagon, good as new; spring wagon; rubber tire buggy, in good condition; Syracuse plow, No. 502; corn fork; shovel plow; spring harrow; HARNESS; set of breechings; set of buggy harness, good as new; flynets; bridles; halters; collars; tie ropes.HOUSEHOLD GOODS
Eight-day clock, in good running order; alarm clock; half dozen plain bottom chairs; 2 stands; 2 writing desks; churn and butter tub; ice cream freezer; 5-gallon wine keg; berry crates and boxes; doughtrays; crocks; dishes; some tools and many other articles too numerous to mention.

Sale to commence at 1 o'clock sharp. Terms: a credit of six months will be given on all sums of $5 or over. Two per cent off for cash.

LAURA B. ADAMS.

(Medical Advertising)

HEADACHE STOPS.
NEURALGIA GONE

Dr. James' Headache Powders give instant relief—Cost dime a package.

Nerve-racking, splitting or dull, throbbing headaches yield in just a few moments to Dr. James' Headache Powders which cost only 10 cents a package at any drug store. It's the quickest, surest headache relief in the whole world. Don't suffer! Relieve the agony and distress now! You can. Millions of men and women have found that headache and neuralgia misery is needless. Get what you ask for.

75 CENTS

Odd Fellows PATRIOTIC
RE-UNIONat PEN-MAR PARK
Thursday, August 9.

Special Train leaves Gettysburg 8:55 A. M. Returning leaves Pen Mar Park 7:00 P. M.

WESTERN MARYLAND RY.
See Flyers. Consult Ticket Agents.
Enjoy an Outing with the L. O. O. F.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. J. William Garlach will continue the undertaking business of her late husband.At 56 Chambersburg, St.
GettysburgFAIRFIELD branch office in charge of SOLOMON ALLISON

PUBLIC SALE

OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE
The undersigned, widow and heir-at-law of W. C. Rogers, deceased, late of the Borough of Fairfield, County of Adams and State of Pennsylvania, will sell at public sale
ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 18, 1917 the following described lot of ground, situate in the Borough of Fairfield, aforesaid:—

Fronting seventy-five (75) feet on the south side of Main street and running back two hundred forty (240) feet to a public alley, adjoining lot of Mahlon Reynolds on the East, and a public alley on the West. This lot of ground is improved with a two story brick dwelling house, situated on the Southwest corner of the lot and containing eight rooms; a two story brick store building, situated on the Southeast corner of the lot and containing three rooms on the first floor and one large room on the second floor; a large brick ice house; wagonshed; large frame barn, with wagonshed attached; and other necessary out buildings. There are large and well drained cellars under both the dwelling house and store building, and the buildings are all well repaired and in good condition. There is a well of water conveniently located in the rear of the house, and a large cistern at the store building.

Sale will be held on the premises, to commence at 1:30 P. M., at which place and time attendance will be given and terms made known by.

JEANETTE R. ROGERS,
EUPHEMIA D. MUSSELMAN.
Widow and heir-at-law of W. C. Rogers, deceased.

75 CENTS

Everyday and Sunday
Pen-Mar ParkMountain Cove Island
And Children's PlaygroundProf. Boh's Popular Orchestra
Prof. Tobin's New Dances
Libby's Amusement Attractions
Sacred Concerts on Sundays75 Cents Round Trip
CHILDREN—40 Cents
Train leaves Gettysburg 10:58 A. M.
Returning, leaves Pen-Mar 5:00 P. M.

Western Maryland Ry.

A Wonderful Trip of Beautiful Scenic Grandeur. Five Hours of Mountain Enjoyment.

GETTYSBURG MARKETS

Prices at the Gettysburg warehouse corrected daily by C. Milton Wolf, Jr., successor to J. Geo. Wolf's Sons Co.
Wheat $2.10
Rye 1.20
Corn 1.35
New Oats 65

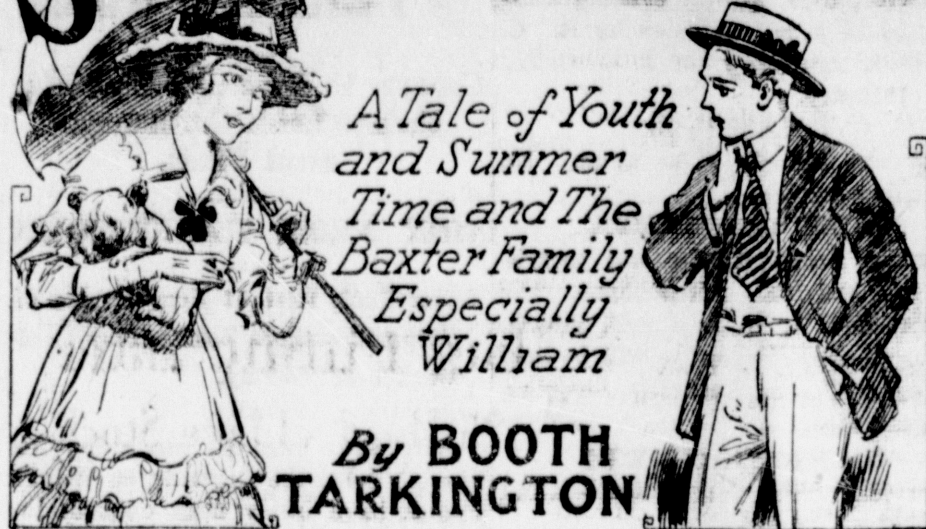

Retail

White Middlings $3.00
Red Middlings 2.40
Baled Straw 75
Timothy Hay 1.10
Plaster 8.50
Cement 2.00
Home Flour 11.60
Western Flour 14.00
Coarse Spring Bran 2.00
Hand Packed Bran 2.00
Green Cross Feed 2.85
Holly Poultry Mash 3.20
Schmacker 2.75
Shell Corn 2.10
Ear Corn 2.10
Corn and Oats Chop 2.75
Home Oats 90
Western Oats 1.00
Succerene 2.25
New Oxford Dairy Feed 2.35

A. J. GUISE

OF BUTLER TOWNSHIP
Announces himself as a Democratic candidate for DIRECTOR OF THE POOR
at the primaries in September.

Seventeen

A Tale of Youth and Summer Time and The Baxter Family Especially WilliamBy BOOTH
TARKINGTON

Copyright, 1915, 1916, by Metropolitan Magazine.

William Baxter, aged seventeen falls at first sight in calf love with young Miss Pratt on a visit to friends of his. His little sister, Jane, is a fly in the ointment.

William is sent by his mother to help Genesis, daisy of all work, bring home some wash tubs she had purchased. They are accompanied by Clematis, Genesis' mongrel dog. Miss Pratt, escorted by her friends, comes along with her dog, Flopit. A dog-fight ensues.

The dogs are separated. William vanishes, disguised, under a boiler. That evening he takes his father's dress suit and calls upon Miss Pratt and her friend, Miss Parcher.

Jane, a knowing youngster, explains certain matters concerning William's love affair to her mother. She also knows the fact that William has abstracted his father's dress suit.

William's attentions to Miss Pratt and those of rivals get on Mr. Parcher's nerves. Jane tells Mr. Parcher in secret that William can't get his father's dress suit any longer because it is being altered.

CHAPTER VI.

Jane Meets Mr. Parcher.

JANE thought almost exclusively of Mr. Parcher until breakfast time and resumed her thinking of him at intervals during the morning. Then, in the afternoon, a series of quiet events not unconnected with William's passion caused her to think of Mr. Parcher more poignantly than ever. Who can say, then, that it was not by design that she came face to face with Mr. Parcher on the public highway at about 5 o'clock that afternoon?

Mr. Parcher was walking home from his office, and he walked slowly, gulping from time to time as he thought of the inevitable evening before him. His was not a rugged constitution, and for the last fortnight or so he had feared that it was giving way altogether.

Walking more and more slowly as he approached the dwelling he had once thought of as home, he became aware of a little girl in a checkered dress approaching him at a quick varied by the indifferent behavior of a farrel hoop which she was disciplining with a stick held in her right hand. When the hoop behaved well she came along rapidly; when it effected to be intoxicated, which was most often his whim, she zigzagged with it and gained little ground. But all the while, and without reference to what went on concerning the hoop, she slowly and continuously fed herself (with her left hand) small, solemnly relished bites of a slice of bread and butter covered with apple sauce and powdered sugar.

Mr. Parcher looked upon her, and he shivered slightly, for he knew her to be Willie Baxter's sister. Jane checked her hoop and halted. "G'd afternoon, Mr. Parcher."

"Good afternoon," he returned. Jane looked up at him trustfully and with a strange, unconscious fondness. "You goin' home now, Mr. Parcher?" she asked.

"I suppose so," he murmured. "My brother Willie's been at your house all afternoon," she remarked. He repeated, "I suppose so," but in a tone of hopeless amiability.

"He just went home," said Jane. "He kept lookin' back at your house. Miss Pratt was on the porch."

"I suppose so," with a mean. "My brother Willie isn't comin' back to your house tonight, but he doesn't know it yet."

"What?" exclaimed Mr. Parcher.

"Willie isn't goin' to spend any more evenings at your house at all," said Jane thoughtfully. "He isn't, but he doesn't know it yet."

Mr. Parcher gazed fixedly at the wonderful child, and something like a secret was gettin' a little teeny bit too tight for papa, but she guessed they—

I mean the secret—she said she guessed it was already pretty loose for Willie. So she wrapped it up, an' I went with her, an' we took 'em to a tailor, an' she told him to make 'em bigger, for a surprise for papa, 'cause then they'd fit him again, Mr. Parcher.

"She said he must let 'em way, way out! So I guess Willie would look too funny in 'em after they're fixed. An', anyway, Mr. Parcher, the secret won't be home from the tailor's for two weeks, an' maybe by that time Miss Pratt'll be gone."

They had reached Mr. Parcher's gate. He halted and looked down fondly upon this child who seemed to have read his soul. "Do you honestly think so?" he asked.

"Well, anyway, Mr. Parcher," said Jane, "mamma said—well, she said she's sure Willie wouldn't come here in the evening any more, when you're at home, Mr. Parcher—'cause after he'd been wearin' the secret every night this way he wouldn't like to come an' not have the secret on. Mamma said the reason he would feel like that was because he was seventeen years old. An' she isn't goin' to tell him anything about it, Mr. Parcher. She said that's the best way."

Mr. Parcher rested an elbow upon the gatepost, gazing down with ever increasing esteem. "Of course I know your last name," he said, "but I'm afraid I've forgotten your other one."

"It's Jane."

"Jane," said Mr. Parcher, "I should like to do something for you."

Jane looked down, and with eyes modestly lowered she swallowed the last fragment of the bread and butter and apple sauce and sugar which had been the constantly evanescent companion of their little walk together. She was not mercenary; she had sought no reward.

"Well, I guess I must run home," she said. She scampered quickly away.

But, though she cared for no reward, the extraordinary restlessness of William that evening after dinner must at least have been of great interest to her. He ascended to his own room directly from the table, but about twenty minutes later came down to the library, where Jane was sitting with her father and mother.

William looked from one to the other of his parents and seemed about to speak, but did not do so. Instead he departed for the upper floor again and presently could be heard moving about energetically in various parts of the house a remote thump finally indicating that he was doing something with a trunk in the attic.

After that he came down to the library again and once more seemed about to speak, but did not. Then he went upstairs again and came down again, and he was still repeating this process when Jane's time limit was reached, and she repaired conscientiously to her little bed. Her mother came to hear her prayers and to turn out the light, and when Mrs. Baxter had passed out into the hall after that Jane heard her speaking to William, who was now conducting what seemed to be excavations on a serious scale in his own room.

"Oh, Willie, perhaps I didn't tell you, but you remember I'd been missing papa's evening clothes and looking everywhere for days and days?"

"Yes," huskily from William.

"Well, I found them. And where do you suppose I'd put them? I found them under your window seat. Can you think of anything more absurd than putting them there and then forgetting it? I took them to the tailor's to have them let out. They were getting too tight for papa, but they'll be all right for him when the tailor sends them back."

What the stricken William gathered from this it is impossible to state with accuracy. Probably he mixed some perplexity with his emotions. Certainly he was perplexed the following evening at dinner.

Jane did not appear at the table. "Poor child! She's sick in bed," Mrs. Baxter explained to her husband. "I like to do something for you."

Jane looked down, and with eyes modestly lowered she swallowed the last fragment of the bread and butter and apple sauce and sugar which had been the constantly evanescent companion of their little walk together. She was not mercenary; she had sought no reward.

"Well, I guess I must run home," she said. She scampered quickly away.

But, though she cared for no reward, the extraordinary restlessness of William that evening after dinner must at least have been of great interest to her. He ascended to his own room directly from the table, but about twenty minutes later came down to the library, where Jane was sitting with her father and mother.

William looked from one to the other of his parents and seemed about to speak, but did not do so. Instead he departed for the upper floor again and presently could be heard moving about energetically in various parts of the house a remote thump finally indicating that he was doing something with a trunk in the attic.

After that he came down to the library again and once more seemed about to speak, but did not. Then he went upstairs again and came down again, and he was still repeating this process when Jane's time limit was reached, and she repaired conscientiously to her little bed. Her mother came to hear her prayers and to turn out the light, and when Mrs. Baxter had passed out into the hall after that Jane heard her speaking to William, who was now conducting what seemed to be excavations on a serious scale in his own room.

"Oh, Willie, perhaps I didn't tell you, but you remember I'd been missing papa's evening clothes and looking everywhere for days and days?"

"Yes," huskily from William.

"Well, I found them. And where do you suppose I'd put them? I found them under your window seat. Can you think of anything more absurd than putting them there and then forgetting it? I took them to the tailor's to have them let out. They were getting too tight for papa, but they'll be all right for him when the tailor sends them back."

What the stricken William gathered from this it is impossible to state with accuracy. Probably he mixed some perplexity with his emotions. Certainly he was perplexed the following evening at dinner.

Jane did not appear at the table. "Poor child! She's sick in bed," Mrs. Baxter explained to her husband. "I like to do something for you."

Jane looked down, and with eyes modestly lowered she swallowed the last fragment of the bread and butter and apple sauce and sugar which had been the constantly evanescent companion of their little walk together. She was not mercenary; she had sought no reward.

"Well, I guess I must run home," she said. She scampered quickly away.

But, though she cared for no reward, the extraordinary restlessness of William that evening after dinner must at least have been of great interest to her. He ascended to his own room directly from the table, but about twenty minutes later came down to the library, where Jane was sitting with her father and mother.

William looked from one to the other of his parents and seemed about to speak, but did not do so. Instead he departed for the upper floor again and presently could be heard moving about energetically in various parts of the house a remote thump finally indicating that he was doing something with a trunk in the attic.

After that he came down to the library again and once more seemed about to speak, but did not. Then he went upstairs again and came down again, and he was still repeating this process when Jane's time limit was reached, and she repaired conscientiously to her little bed. Her mother came to hear her prayers and to turn out the light, and when Mrs. Baxter had passed out into the hall after that Jane heard her speaking to William, who was now conducting what seemed to be excavations on a serious scale in his own room.

"Oh, Willie, perhaps I didn't tell you, but you remember I'd been missing papa's evening clothes and looking everywhere for days and days?"

"Yes," huskily from William.

"Well, I found them. And where do you suppose I'd put them? I found them under your window seat. Can you think of anything more absurd than putting them there and then forgetting it? I took them to the tailor's to have them let out. They were getting too tight for papa, but they'll be all right for him when the tailor sends them back."

What the stricken William gathered from this it is impossible to state with accuracy. Probably he mixed some perplexity with his emotions. Certainly he was perplexed the following evening at dinner.

Jane did not appear at the table. "Poor child! She's sick in bed," Mrs. Baxter explained to her husband. "I like to do something for you."

Jane looked down, and with eyes modestly lowered she swallowed the last fragment of the bread and butter and apple sauce and sugar which had been the constantly evanescent companion of their little walk together. She was not mercenary; she had sought no reward.

"Well, I guess I must run home," she said. She scampered quickly away.

But, though she cared for no reward, the extraordinary restlessness of William that evening after dinner must at least have been of great interest to her. He ascended to his own room directly from the table, but about twenty minutes later came down to the library, where Jane was sitting with her father and mother.

William looked from one to the other of his parents and seemed about to speak, but did not do so. Instead he departed for the upper floor again and presently could be heard moving about energetically in various parts of the house a remote thump finally indicating that he was doing something with a trunk in the attic.

After that he came down to the library again and once more seemed about to speak, but did not. Then he went upstairs again and came down again, and he was still repeating this process when Jane's time limit was reached, and she repaired conscientiously to her little bed. Her mother came to hear her prayers and to turn out the light, and when Mrs. Baxter had passed out into the hall after that Jane heard her speaking to William, who was now conducting what seemed to be excavations on a serious scale in his own room.

"Oh, Willie, perhaps I didn't tell you, but you remember I'd been missing papa's evening clothes and looking everywhere for days and days?"

"Yes," huskily from William.

"Well, I found them. And where do you suppose I'd put them? I found them under your window seat. Can you think of anything more absurd than putting them there and then forgetting it? I took them to the tailor's to have them let out. They were getting too tight for papa, but they'll be all right for him when the tailor sends them back."

What the stricken William gathered from this it is impossible to state with accuracy. Probably he mixed some perplexity with his emotions. Certainly he was perplexed the following evening at dinner.

Jane did not appear at the table. "Poor child! She's sick in bed," Mrs. Baxter explained to her husband. "I like to do something for you."

Jane looked down, and with eyes modestly lowered she swallowed the last fragment of the bread and butter and apple sauce and sugar which had been the constantly evanescent companion of their little walk together. She was not mercenary; she had sought no reward.

"Well, I guess I must run home," she said. She scampered quickly away.

But, though she cared for no reward, the extraordinary restlessness of William that evening after dinner must at least have been of great interest to her. He ascended to his own room directly from the table, but about twenty minutes later came down to the library, where Jane was sitting with her father and mother.

William looked from one to the other of his parents and seemed about to speak, but did not do so. Instead he departed for the upper floor again and presently could be heard moving about energetically in various parts of the house a remote thump finally indicating that he was doing something with a trunk in the attic.

The Modern Way
Pipeless Warm Air Furnace

Burns hard and soft coal or wood. Requires from 25 per cent. to 40 per cent. less fuel than the old styles.

Heats the entire house from one register. Sold on a guarantee. See me for prices and terms.

L. L. ULLRICH AGENT FOR ADAMS CO.
Both phones. Biglerville.

Western Maryland Ry.

New Fast Train FOR BALTIMORE

(Daily, Except Sunday)

Leaves Gettysburg 8:00 a. m.
Arrives Baltimore 10:34 a. m.Direct connection in Union Station, Baltimore with Pennsylvania Railroad trains to and from Washington, D. C., Philadelphia
New York and the East.

Returning, Train No. 45 leaves Baltimore Union Station 4:07 P. M. Union Station 4:12 P. M. arrives Gettysburg 7:01 P. M., daily, except Sunday.

Western Maryland Ry.

PUBLIC SALE

ON

SATURDAY, AUGUST 4, 1917.

The undersigned having sold his property and intending to discontinue the livery business will sell at public sale at his stables in Littlestown, the following personal property:

TWELVE HEAD OF GOOD FARM AND LIVERY HORSES

Eight falling top buggies, five are rubber tire; four surreys; two Jenny linds, one a rubber tire; two seated trap; sleighs and bells; surrey and buggy poles.

TEN SETS SINGLE HARNESS

Three sets double harness; two sets surrey and hack harness; also a lot of flynets; hames and traces; collars; bridles; halters; checklines; tie straps; whips; blankets and lap spreads.

ONE STEWARD CLIPPING MACHINE

good as new. Two wagons, one horse and two horse wagon with beds; also farming implements and household goods.

Many other articles too numerous to mention. Sale to begin at 1:00 o'clock. Terms and conditions will be made known on day of sale by

HARRY G. MYERS

Thompson & Myers, Auctioneers.

Also at the same time and place and on the same conditions as above I will sell the following:

Grey mare, eight years old, sound and right in every respect, having recently lost the mate and having no further use for her. This mare will make an excellent brood mare, weighs 1480 pounds.

One, two or three horse Auburn wagon, only used a few months, three inch tread. Also double set, new extra heavy made Yankee harness.

N. E. ORNDORFF

(Medical Advertising)
DARKEN GRAY HAIR
LOOK, YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally that Nobody can Tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound", which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

NOTICE

In Re Estate Samuel Beard, deceased, late of the Township of Liberty, County of Adams and State of Pennsylvania.

To all parties, residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or elsewhere, interested, as the heirs-at-law or legal representatives of the said Samuel Beard, deceased, in the estate of said decedent.

Notice is hereby given that a Citation has issued out of the Orphans Court of Adams County, Pennsylvania, to George F. Beard, Arthur Beard, Jesse Beard, Clarence Beard, Margie Beard, Grace Beard, Mrs. W. B. Stottelmyer, Fred Beard, Mrs. Clara Wendt, Frazee Keady, Mrs. Laura Shoolroy, Samuel Keady, Edward Keady, George Manherz, Jesse Manherz, Mrs. Tinnie Diehl, A. V. Manherz, Mrs. Alice Waddle, Mrs. Cora Sanders, Mrs. Vida Rider, Emma Baker, Laura Beard, Committee of Howard Beard, a Lunatic, Harvey Beard, Mrs. Lydia Cuthall, Elliott Beard, Mrs. Mary M. Beard, Flora May Beard, Mrs. Lillie G. Breuer, Mrs. Fannie C. Wagner, Virginia M. Beard, Clinton W. Beard, Mrs. Minnie A. Beard, W. D. Sheely, Guardian ad litem for Mary Baker, Clara Baker, Nellie Hyacinth Beard, Guy Beard, Jessie May Beard, Richard C. Beard and Ruth Jean Beard, minors, and all other persons, if any, interested in said estate, ordering all such persons, or any of them, to appear before said Court on the 24th day of August, A. D. 1917, at 10:30 A. M. of said day, then and there to show cause, if any there be, why a dower in the sum of Twelve Hundred Ninety-four and 19-100 Dollars, charged on the land of said decedent, after the death of the dower of Elizabeth Beard, widow said decedent, paid on or about the said decedent, paid on or about the first day of April, 1882, though not released, and now remaining as an apparent charge of encumbrance on said real estate, which is now owned by the Elevation Orchards Company. A corporation, should not be discharged in conformity with the provisions of the "Fiduciaries Act of 1917," approved June 7, 1917, and a decree to such effect be duly entered; at which time and place you and each of you are hereby notified to appear and show cause, if any you may have, why such decree should not be entered. Hereof fail not.

W. D. SHEELY

Clerk of the Orphans Court of Adams County.

Butt & Butt

Attorneys for Petitioner.

(Medical Advertising)

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR STOMACH

If you are not able to digest your food, if you lack an appetite, if your stomach is sour, gassy, upset, your tongue coated, your head aches and you are dizzy and have heartburn use Mi-o-na at once, the first dose brings sure, safe and effective relief.

Buy now from Peoples' Drug Store—to-day—a fifty cent box.

DEMONSTRATION

Maxwell Trucks and Touring Cars</

DRYS IN HOUSE HALT PROGRAM

Constitutional Amendment is Delayed.

GOES OVER UNTIL DECEMBER

Congressman Randall Says Liquor Men Tricked the Prohibitionists by Inserting the Six-Year Clause.

Washington, Aug. 3.—National prohibition by constitutional amendment was hung up in the house by the prohibition leaders themselves.

The resolution to submit the proposal to the states, adopted by the senate, was put out of the program for the present session and will not come up until the regular session in December.

Plans to reconvene the Democratic caucus and reverse its decision to consider only war legislation were abandoned because it was believed delaying action until the next session would help the prohibition cause.

Representative Randall, of California, the only prohibition member of congress, issued a statement declaring that "the friends of national prohibition have been flimflammed by the liquor lobby in the constitutional amendment adopted in the senate." He added that "a great jollification" was held by liquor representatives in a Washington hotel and that a well defined rumor had sprung up that the six-year clause added to Senator Hardine's motion really was written by the brewers' attorneys.

"The joker is not in the six-year handicap itself," said Mr. Randall, "though that is without a single precedent in history. The Harding clause provides that this article shall be in operative unless ratified within six years. The impression is that the prohibition amendment would not become a part of the constitution unless ratified. The fact is it will become a part of the constitution if ratified after the time limit but will be inoperative.
This promises long years of litigation.
The whole campaign to secure ratification by the states will be clouded by this uncertain language.

"The duty of the house of representatives is clear. Throw out the Hardine clause entirely."

GRACE MARSHALL INSANE

Girl Found a Prisoner in Farm House
For 12 Years, sent to Asylum.

Easton, Md., Aug. 3.—Grace Marshall, who is declared to have been isolated in a room in a farmhouse near St. Michael's for twelve years, has been adjudged insane.

She was placed in a state asylum at Cambridge by order of the Talbot county commissioners. She is thirty years old.

The woman was discovered in an emaciated condition in her father's farmhouse in November, 1915.

The father, Frank Marshall, and his wife, Mrs. Rose Virginia Marshall stepmother of Grace, were tried or charges of assault and assault with intent to kill. They were acquitted.

Grace, when taken from the farm house, weighed fifty-eight and a half pounds. Her vocabulary was limited to two words, "mamma" and "apple."
She was sent to a Baltimore hospital and weighed about 100 when her parents were tried.

The father and stepmother said she was feeble-minded and they isolated her so they could care for her.

KILLS POLICE CHIEF

Patrolman, Believed Insane, Shoots
Two Other Officers.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 3.—James W.
Reynolds, Superintendent of the New Orleans police department, was shot and killed in his office by Terrence
Mullen, a patrolman.

Captain of Police Gerry Mullen, who was in the superintendent's office, also received two bullet wounds in the chest.

Reynolds was almost instantly killed while sitting in his chair. George Van der Voort, secretary to the superintendent, who sought to enter the room when the shooting began, received a bullet wound in the head. Both he and Captain Mullen are in a critical condition.

Patrolman Mullen was shot in the hand and captured by police officials as he was trying to escape. The authorities expressed the opinion that he had become suddenly insane.

U. S. AFTER MEN WHO STIR UP LABOR

Drastic Action May be Taken if Continued.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Drastic action by the government to meet the labor disturbances in the west and south west, which officials are sure have been stirred up by German propaganda, will be taken if the situation shows any growth.

Intimations of an attempt to call out the United Mine Workers should the government not intervene on the half of the Industrial Workers of the World in labor disputes in certain sections of the west, have resulted in the department of justice undertaking a broad general inquiry.

Bluejackets Fire on Mob.

Superior, Wis., Aug. 3.—Bluejackets from a United States gunboat were obliged to fire a volley over the heads of a mob of waterfront workers that attacked a policeman.

The patrolman had arrested a man believed to have been a member of the I. W. W., whom he detected robbing a man asleep in the street. The attack followed and the bluejackets nearly were called. Both the officer and his prisoner were rescued and the mob dispersed.

Michigan Miners Continue Strike.

Bessemer, Mich., Aug. 3.—Striking iron miners in this district decided to continue their fight for higher wages after their committee had reported that the operators had refused to consider a modified set of demands presented Wednesday.

The operators forwarded their answer through Mayor Bryne. Joseph Rey, chairman of the strike committee, said that the men were unanimous in their declaration that the strike should continue.

PUT OFF SUFFRAGE VOTE

Motion to Take Amendment From Committee Goes to Senate Calendar.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The senate devoted part of the session to woman suffrage.

A motion by Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa, to discharge the suffrage committee from further consideration of the Susan B. Anthony amendment and thus bring a vote was forced to the calendar. Some senators had objected to a vote now chiefly on the ground that the suffragists of the woman's party picketing the White House might claim credit for it.

GENERAL MARKETS

PHILADELPHIA—FLOUR—Dull

Straight, 11.75@12.25; city mills, 11.42@

11.50.

RYE FLOUR—Quiet; per barrel,

$10@11.

WHEAT—Nominal.

CORN—Firm; No. 2 yellow, 2.30@

2.33.

OATS—Strong; No. 2 white, 94@

95c.

POULTRY—Live steady; hens, 22@

24c; old roosters, 15@17c. Dressed, steady; choice fowls, 26c; old roosters,

19c.

BUTTER—Firm; fancy creamery,

42c per lb.

EDGES—Firm; selected, 42@44c; nearby, 36c; western, 36c.

Live Stock Quotations.

CHICAGO.—HOGS—Slow and generally steady. Tops, 16.25; bulk, 15

@16; light, 14.80@16.10; mixed, 14.65

@16.25; Yorkers, 15.70@15.90; pigs,

11.50@14.50; good to choice, 15.50@

16.20; box quality fair.

CATTLE—Steady to 10c higher;

beef, 7.60@14.15; cows and heifers,

24.50@11.75; steers and feeders,

25.50@3; western, 25.40@11.60; calves,

28.75@13; poor to medium, 27.60@

27.75.

SHEEP—Strong to 10c higher; native, 7.60@10.70; western, 27.65@

10.85; yearlings, 28.75@12.90; lambs, native, 28.75@12.50.

Various Ways of Using Cornmeal in the Diet

Include cornmeal in the diet and learn to like it. The qualities of cornmeal have been underestimated. In the opinion of Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of the division of home economics in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Bolted cornmeal is now cheap as compared with other cereals. It costs about half as much as wheat flour, only a third as much as rolled oats and a fourth as much as rolled wheat.

Cornmeal has a high food value.
Although the bolted meal does not supply so much tissue building material as wheat flour, it does supply more starch and fat. The unbolted cornmeal, which is of good flavor and is preferred by many, has more tissue building material as well as more starch and fat than the wheat flour.

For a long time pellagra was supposed to be contracted through eating cornmeal. Scientific investigation has proved that this is false, and there is no danger from eating ordinary quantities.

Cornmeal can be used successfully in a variety of ways. As a breakfast cereal, fried mush, corn bread or as corn griddlecakes it is a success from a nutritive as well as an economic standpoint. A satisfactory bread may be made by using one-half wheat flour and one-half cornmeal.

Familiar Scenes.

She—"I suppose you are contrasting things here as they were in your old home." He—"Not contrasting. This is exactly like the rows mother used to make."

ARMLET AND BADGE FOR PENNA. HOME DEFENSE POLICE

A friendly warning concerning speech or conduct from a wearer of the armlet and badge here illustrated should be taken in good part—and promptly heeded.

They are the official insignia of the Pennsylvania Home Defense Police and denote that the wearer has all the powers delegated to special officers of first-class cities.

This means authority to make immediate arrests for any violation of the statutes. Maintenance of law and order and protection against all se-ditional attacks—verbal or physical—are included in the duties of this new force.

The badge is of embossed metal in silver-gray finish. It is considerably smaller than the cut reproduced above but the section of the armlet shown is actual size. The armlet is blue and white and is sufficiently large to encircle the coat sleeve. It will be displayed on the left arm between elbow and wrist when the wearer is on active duty.

The badge will not be prominently displayed when the wearer is off duty. But members of the force will always have their badges with them.
The badge is evidence of the authority of its possessor to act for the security of the state at all times.

Willard Wins Court Fight.

Justice Hendrick of the supreme court of New York denied the application of Jack Curley for an injunction against Jess Willard, champion prizefighter. Curley wanted him enjoined from appearing with the Jess Willard Wild West show until the expiration of Curley's contract with Willard in September. Justice Hendrick said Willard is responsible in an action at law for damages, and there would be no profit to Curley in keeping the champion from earning additional money this summer.

Star Runner in Army.

Don M. Scott of the Mississippi Agricultural college, the national half mile champion, is now an officer in the United States army. In the big meet at Newark last year Scott spread-eagled his field in 1 minute 54 seconds, and the performance was considered as being the fastest half ever run for the American championship.

For Sale or Ex- change on Farm Property on Chambersburg street, all conveniences.

Apply

J. A. LENTZ,
244 Chambersburg Street.

Buried Alive in Tree.

As some workmen were felling timber in Scotland, they discovered in the center of one of the trees a cavity in which were the remains of a cat. The skeleton was entire, and some hair of a sandy color yet remained on the skin. It is conjectured that the animal, having entered a hollow part of the tree, was unable to extricate itself, and the wood in process of years had grown around it.

Big Public Sale

125 Head of Live Stock

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1917.

The undersigned will sell at public sale on his farm in Straban township, along the Gettysburg and Harrisburg Road, three and one half miles north of Gettysburg, the following:

125 Head of Live Stock

Horses; mule; cows; steers and stock bulls.

Sand mule; thirteen years old, work wherever hitched; bay horse;
"Charles" good saddle, driver and worker; roan colt, Standard bred, has been worked some.

TEN MILK COWS

Some will be fresh by day of sale;
some springers and fall cows.

TEN STOCK BULLS

Holstein, Durham and Jersey.

TEN HEAD HEIFERS

Some will be fresh shortly.

THIRTY STEERS

weighing from 500 to 1400 pounds each.

FIFTY HEAD OF HOGS

consisting of six brood sows. Two will have pigs by day of sale, balance later. Forty four shoats weighing from 40 to 125 pounds each.

A credit of six months will be given on all sums in excess of $10.00, to purchasers giving their notes with approved security. Three per cent off for cash.

Sale to begin at 1:00 o'clock, sharp.
LOUIS MIZELL

Thompson, Auctioneer
P. A. Miller, Clerk.

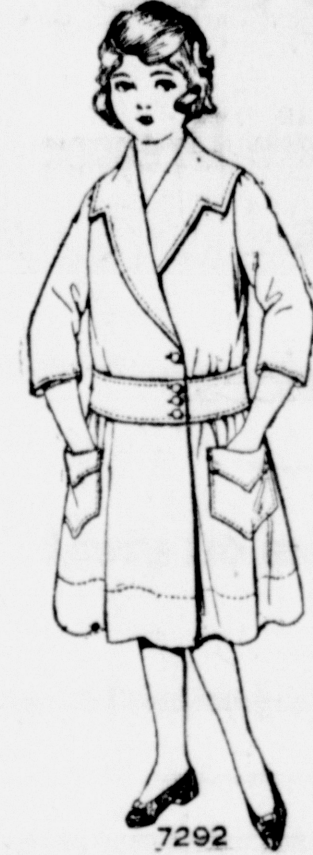

Easy & Practical Home Dress Making Lessons

Prepared Specially for This Newspaper

By Pictorial Review

Girl's Dress in Surplice Style.

7292

The distinguishing feature of this little frock in red gingham is the surplice effect achieved in the adjustment. Attached to the long-waisted blouse is a two-piece skirt with panel front.

Tub frocks and summer are synony-

CUTTING GUIDE 7292 Showing Size 8

Pictorial Review Dress No. 7292. Sizes, 6 to 14 years. Price, 15 cents.

FOR ANY KIND OF JOB PRINTING SEE

THE TIMES.

Our Completely Equipped Outfit for doing all classes of Job Printing enables us to give prompt service and up-to-the-minute style of work

Snappy, Up-to-Date Stationery Is A Large Factor In Business. See Us.

Doings of the Van Loons— They were bound to get Father Some way.

By F. Lelpziger

G. W. WEAVER & SON

August Clearance Sale

70 White & Fancy Voile Dresses

A WIDE CHOICE

at Lowered Prices.

First Floor Cut Prices on great Variety of Goods.

For Sale

1915 HUDSON 6-40

Seven passenger Automobile.

1914 HUDSON 6-54

Seven passenger Automobile.

These cars have been rebuilt and are in good condition.

S. G. BIGHAM,
BIGLERVILLE.

Midsummer Sales

Are appealing—they reach home to the pockets of the ECONOMICAL CASH BUYER who is interested in making his dollars reach the limit of purchasing value.

ADVERTISE NOW

Soon the season when cut-price sales are of interest will be over—the buyer of Summer merchandise at this time will have a few weeks of immediate use therefor.

THE TIMES

Offers advertisers a subscription list which fully covers this territory—subscribers who naturally do their shopping in Gettysburg.

PUBLIC SALE

OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

On Friday, the 24th day of August, 1917, the undersigned, Administrators of the Estate of John E. Singley, deceased, late of the Township of Hamiltonban, County of Adams and State of Pennsylvania, in pursuance of an order of the Orphans Court of Adams County, made the 9th day of July, 1917, and to them directed, will sell at public sale the following described real estate, to wit:

Tract No. 1. All that tract of land situate in the Township of Hamiltonban, aforesaid, along the Cold Springs Road, about one mile from the Fairfield-Gettysburg Road and about one mile from the Fairfield-Cashtown Road, adjoining other lands of the decedent, hereinafter described as tract No. 2, land of P. Musselman, Alex Rockwell, Charles Harr and others along the dividing line of the Townships of Hamiltonban and Highland, containing forty-three and one-half (43 1-2) acres, more or less. About four acres of this tract is good meadow land, about eight acres timber land, principally white-oak, and the balance arable and in a good state of cultivation. This tract is fenced with worm and wire fences, in good condition, and a never failing stream of water flowing through it.

Tract No. 2. All that tract of land situate in the Township of Hamiltonban, aforesaid, along the Cold Springs Road, about one mile from Fairfield-Gettysburg Road and about one mile from the Fairfield-Cashtown Road, adjoining lands of E. G. Cluck, lands formerly Edward Singley, tract No. 1, lands of John A. Rockwell and others, containing five acres and seventy-eight perches (5A. 78 Per.) more or less; improved with a two story frame weather boarded house, with a one and three-quarter story frame weather boarded kitchen attached, small frame barn, with wagonshed attached, hog-pen, chicken-house, corn-crib and other necessary out buildings, all in fair condition, with a never failing well of water located about twenty-five feet from the house. There are on this tract fruit trees of the varieties suitable for and in a quantity sufficient for family use; also a grove of good white-oak, hickory and swamp-oak. This property is also well fenced with wire and Biesecker fences, in good condition.

Sale will commence at 1:30 p. m., on tract No. 1, along Cold Springs Road and opposite the buildings on Tract No. 2, at which time Tract No. 1 will be sold; tract No. 2 will be sold at two p. m., sale to be held at the buildings on tract No. 2. At the aforesaid times and places attendance will be given and terms made known by

SARAH E. SINGLEY
R. MERVIN SINGLEY

Administrators of the Estate of John E. Singley, deceased.
Butt & Butt

Attys. for Administrators.

ALSO

The undersigned, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. of said 24th day of August, 1917, will sell at public sale, to be held on the property, all that tract of land situate near the Cold Springs Road, about one mile from the Fairfield-Gettysburg Road and about one mile from the Fairfield-Cashtown Road, and in the Township of Hamiltonban, County of Adams and State of Pennsylvania, adjoining lands of C. P. Bream, Ed. Miller, John A. Rockwell, tract No. 2 above described and E. G. Cluck, containing 20 acres 27 perches, more or less. Property is improved with a one and three-quarter story log weather boarded house, with porch on both sides, with a one and one-half story frame kitchen attached and covering a well of never failing water and pump, two large chicken houses, small frame bank barn, with pump house, wagon shed and corn-crib attached, hog-pen, smoke house and all other necessary out buildings, in fair condition. The wells of water, both at the house and barn, are conveniently located and covered. There are about 5 acres of good timber, principally poplar and white-oak, on this tract; two small orchards, one apple the other of peach trees, each of about seventy-five trees, in good condition and just coming into bearing; also other fruit trees of the varieties suitable for and in a quantity sufficient for family use. This property is partially fenced with good wire and Biesecker fences. This tract was formerly known as the "Sugar Loaf property" or "Hull property."

Sale will be held at the buildings on this tract, at which place and at the above stated time attendance will be given and terms made known by

SARAH E. SINGLEY

WANTED

1000 Cords of Pulp wood delivered along W. M. and P. & R. Railways. Gum, Poplar, Sycamore, and Linn.

CHAS. J. DEARDORFF
United phone 633 P., Gettysburg

A Dangerous Journey

By JAMES BRAINARD

I was in Egypt before the fanatical outbreak of 1882. When a trouble of that kind is coming those who are not in the secret either know nothing about it or have only vague suspicions. I heard some ugly rumors as to what was about to happen, but did not know how much dependence could be placed upon them. To all outward appearances everything was moving on as usual.

I was obliged to go to Ismailia on business. If I had known the condition of the people of the country I should not have trusted myself out of Port Said, where Europeans were comparatively safe. To make a journey into the interior was madness, but I did not know it. Indeed, I only realized that under the circumstances I would rather not go. A matter of ordinary gain and being murdered were the alternatives.

I went on a night train. Being somewhat fidgety about my diet, I took with me a hamper filled with succulent eatables as I could get together and on the top placed a box of cigars from which only a few of the weeds had been taken. I got into my compartment, put my hand baggage on the rack and settled myself for a journey. Being in a smoking compartment, I lit a cigar.

The compartment was filled with natives. I belong the only European in it. This in itself was not encouraging. The train had hardly got under way when an old Arab sheik sitting opposite me leaned forward and calmly took my cigar from between my lips and, placing it between his own, smoked it himself.

To have resented the insult would have been equivalent to inviting the man to stab me. I therefore paid no attention to him and, taking a newspaper from my pocket, began to read—that is, I pretended to read, but I had no idea of what was on the sheet before me, my mind being taken up with the fact that I was in a compartment with seven Arabs and utterly at their mercy. My eyes appeared to be fixed upon the paper, but I was casting quick glances aside at the natives and knew by their chatter and occasional looks at me that I was the subject of their conversation.

Then a lucky thought occurred to me. I reached up to the rack, got my box of cigars from my hamper, took out one for myself and handed the box to the sheik who had robbed me of the one I had been smoking. He took it, appropriated a handful of the contents and passed it to the others, who did the same, and the box was returned to me empty.

Notwithstanding my peace offering I expected every moment to feel cold steel entering my vitals. Most of the Arabs wore long knives where they could be seen, and I knew not what other weapons they had concealed. As for me, I was unarmed, and even if I had been armed my opponents were seven to one.

I cannot describe the agony of that night, expecting, as I did, death at any moment. The Arabs in my compartment paid no attention to anything that was going on in the rest of the train, but I had a vague feeling that something very important might be going on. I can't account for this feeling, for I heard no sound to produce it. I only knew that I felt that there was murder in the air.

Finally their looks and acts were so suspicious that I bethought myself of some other way similar to my offer of cigars to placate them. Then my luncheon occurred to me. Reaching up again to the rack, I brought down my hamper, opened it and displayed the eatables. Every man's eyes were on them, but not a man moved to touch any of them. I offered the hamper to the man who sat next me, but he declined. In turn I handed it to every man in the compartment; but though they all looked with eager eyes upon the viands, not a man would accept a morsel.

At first I was astonished at this. Then I remembered that no Arab will break bread with an enemy. The moment this occurred to me I knew I was doomed. I put my hamper back on the rack and, wrapping myself in my overcoat, lay back in my seat, with my eyes closed, to await whatever was in store for me.

I heard a great deal of wrangling on the part of the Arabs, but I thought I would rather rely on my weakness than on being prepared for resistance that would be useless. So I did not open my eyes. Presently I felt a hand on my arm. Thinking my time had come, I looked, and there was the sheik who had taken my cigar from my mouth holding out a piece of dry bread. I took it and, biting from it, chewed vigorously.

A flood of relief and joy seemed to have been poured over me. I knew from that moment I was safe. Reaching up for my hamper, I took it down and handed it to the sheik. He helped himself, then passed it around to the others, each man partaking plentifully of the contents.

Now that they had broken bread with me and I having no more to fear I again leaned back in my seat and this time slept. I knew that I was as safe from my Arab companions as if I were in my own bed at home.

But I did not reach Ismailia that night. In the morning I found that the natives had murdered the engineer, stoker and every European on the train except myself.

Seeing Double.

Spectacles with double lenses having air spaces between and with pneumatic rings to make them fit tightly, have been invented in Europe to aid a diver's sight under water.

FAIRNESS TO RULE IN TRAINING MEN

No Favoritism In New Army, Secretary Baker Pledges.

AMUSEMENTS FOR TROOPS.

All Safeguards of Science and Medicine Will Be Thrown Around Training Camps—Tells of the Great Steps Forward That Have Been Taken in the Different Branches of the Service.

What the government promises to the great army of young men being called to the colors and to their fathers and mothers has been outlined by Secretary of War Baker.

"It is provided in the law that when these armies are assembled there shall be no difference between the regular, the national guard and the national army," said the secretary. "But every man, whether he has had training in the regular army or not, whether he has had training in the guard or not, whether he be a member of the selective national army, is equal in dignity, in responsibility and in opportunity, a member of the army of the United States.

"There will be preserved that just pride which the people of our several states have in their own soldier boys, so that the soldier from New York will be known as a part of the contribution of this great commonwealth to our national strength and the soldier from Wisconsin and from Ohio and from Texas equally designated, but the eyes of the country in all that is done for them and in all that they do for us there is to be neither distinction nor prejudice nor favoritism, but they stand equal as the servants and as the upholders of our liberties.

Amusements Planned.

"Modern times have witnessed many new things. The great science of medicine and sanitation has wonderfully advanced, and all the safeguards that knowledge and science can throw around our soldiers is to be placed about them. And in these great encampments where they are to be trained modern recreation experts are to provide wholesome and attractive amusements for their leisure, so that when they come out of the army they will have no scars except those honorably won in warfare against the enemy of their country."

Mr. Baker assumed the war portfolio with the reputation of a pacifist. There are many public men who still regard him as too much of a pacifist to administer the war department efficiently in time of war. The secretary is bent upon confounding these doubting souls. He may be a pacifist, but he believes this war is a righteous war, being fought to bring the world nearer universal peace.

"In 1776, on the 4th day of July, a nation was born, dedicated to a new theory of government and a new ideal of human liberty," he said. "On the 4th day of July, 1917, our newspapers announced throughout a vast and populous continent to a people who for more than 100 years have known political liberty and with it unexampled progress that an expeditionary force of their soldiers had landed, without the loss of a man, on the soil of France to defend in that place the great principle of democracy and liberty under which they have thrived so long.

Devoted to Justice.

"America has chosen—nay, she chose in 1776—that she intended to be democratic in her policies and in her government, and our whole history of more than 100 years justifies the statement that our people are wedded and devoted to the idea of international justice as the rule upon which nations shall live together in peace and amity upon the earth.

"So that when we entered this war we entered it in order that we and our children and our children's children might fabricate a new and better civilization under better conditions, enjoying liberty of person, liberty of belief, freedom of speech and freedom as to our political institutions.

"We entered this war to remove from ourselves, our children and our children's children the menace which threatened to deny us that right.

"Never during the progress of this war let us for one instant forget the high and holy mission with which we entered it, no matter what the cost, no matter what the temptation.

"Let us bring out of this war the flag of our country as untarnished as it goes in, sanctified and consecrated to the establishment of liberty for all men who dwell on the face of the earth."

Asked to say a word on the scope of the war preparations he is superintending, Mr. Baker replied:

"The mere business of this enterprise is very great. Perhaps I can give some idea to you of what it means if I quote for your information a few comparative figures.

"Take, for instance, the subject of aeronautics. In 1915 the congress appropriated something less than half a million dollars for the building of aircraft in the army. In 1917 the appropriation was $47,000,000, and now congress has appropriated the great sum of $640,000,000 for the building of aeroplanes."

Three and You're Fired.

"Three drinks and you're out" is warning to state game wardens and protectors. One drink means thirty days' suspension, two sixty days.

Runs It Himself Now.

Author's Friend—"Does your husband use a pseudonym in his writing?" Author's Wife—"He used to, but she was perfectly horrid, so I have learned to run it myself."—Judge.

August Clearance Sale

-OF-

MEN'S, WOMEN'S and CHILDREN'S LOW SHOES

Including Men's and Youngmen's Palm Beach Suits and Boy's Wash Suits.

STRAW HATS ONE-HALF OFF, of the former prices.

O. H. LESTZ,
THE HOME OF GOOD CLOTHES.
Corner Square & Carlisle Streets.

PHOTOPLAY

MARY MILES MINTER

IN

"YOUTH'S ENDEARING CHARM"

As orphan Mary, Miss Minter gives a fascinating interpretation of the role of a desolate little girl, who, after a long battle with starvation in the slums of the city, is committed to an orphan asylum and later bound out by the institution to a cruel family of farmers. Finally, after months of drudgery, untold hardships, and long spells of loneliness and no reward for her continued toil, the hapless little girl attracts the attention of a wealthy and kind woman, who adopts her as one of her own.

ADULTS 10 CENTS

CHILDREN 5 CENTS

To-Morrow: Matinee and Night; Charlie Chaplin in "The Floorwalker".

Cut out and mail to Gettysburg Chapter, Red Cross, Gettysburg, Pa.

Application for Membership

Make All Checks Payable to C. W. STOCK, Treas.

Date

I hereby apply for membership in the class checked below and enclose the sum of Dollars ($.....)therefor.

Please check class desired and be sure to write name legibly

- [] Annual Member - - - - $1
- [] *Subscribing Member . . annually - - 2
- [] *Contributing Member . . annually - - 5
- [] *Sustaining Member . . . annually - - 10
- [] *Life Member . . . one payment - - 25
- [] *Patron Member . . . one payment - - 100

Name _____
Home Address _____
City or State _____

IMPORTANT—Memberships in classes starred (*) above include annual subscriptions to the American Red Cross Magazine, handsomely illustrated, published monthly.

... NOTICE ...

We want all our old employees and about 40 more for this season. Hand in applications around AUGUST 18th, by which time our I. Z. MUSSELMAN will be home again.

Orrtanna Canning Company

OYLER & SPANGLER

The Oldest Established Hide and Fertilizer Dealers in Adams County

We remove dead stock within a radius of 20 miles and pay you for them.

Our prompt service in this line will please YOU.

We will be able to supply our regular trade with fertilizers. Save your fertilizer sacks to be refilled this fall. They are worth $1.50 per ton.

BOTH PHONES

GETTYSBURG, PA.

I will be in Gettysburg, Tuesday, August 14th and 28th, at Penrose Myers to examine eyes and fit glasses.

W. H. DINKLE,
Graduate of Optics.

HAMMERS' PARK

Has now a large rostrum and a good eating capacity, for Church and Sabbath School entertainments. On Thursday, August 2nd, there will be a Sunday School picnic from Gettysburg, and on Saturday evening, August 4th, the camp meeting starts. Everybody welcome, free of charge. No fee at the gate.

KEEP YOUR SHOES NEAT

2 IN 1 WHITE SHOE DRESSING

White Cake 10c
White Liquid 10c

for MEN'S WOMEN'S and CHILDREN'S SHOES

THE DALLEY CO. OF NEW YORK INC. BUFFALO NY